LBJ Goes To Hospital

SERGEANT . . . on phone. Wife, father watch.

Telephone Call Shakes Him Up

San Francisco (AP) — A medical corpsman handed the receiver of the bedside pay telephone to Sgt. Thomas Thompson

"Yes, sir," the paralyzed veteran of the Viet Nam war responded to the voice on the other end.

Then he quickly added a startled, "Who?"

That voice was President Johnson's talking from the White House to the sergeant lying in a ward for serious cases at Letterman General Hospital.

The sergeant, 35, paralyzed from the waist down when a Viet Cong mine explosion overturned his jeep last August, was solemn-faced as the conversation continued.

'Yes, Sir. Yes, Sir'

Repeatedly he said, "Yes, sir," and then finally:

"Thank you, Mr. President. Thank you, sir. And we're praying for your recovery also.

"Thank you, sir. Goodbye."

"Holy smokes!" the sergeant exclaimed.

"I had no idea this was going to happen. It kind of got me shook up."

What'd He Say?

What did the President tell him?

"Oh," he said, "he thanked me for doing my job so well. Also for my work as an ROTC instructor" at a North Hollywood boys school.

"Some of my students wrote to him and told him how I had been an inspiration to them. It was a great honor for me to speak to the President of the United States."

For 40 anxious minutes before the call came it had been a well-kept secret by 25 news and cameramen, a cluster of hospital corpsmen, the sergeant's tall, beautiful brunette wife, Patricia, and his father, Thomas Thompson Sr. of Brea, Calif

Luna 7 Seems Failure

Jodrell Bank, England (AP)—The director of Britain's big radiotelescope said Friday all the evidence indicated Russia's Luna 7 moon rocket had destroyed itself on hitting the moon

Sir Bernard Lovell, the director, said radio signals from the moon rocket ceased at 10:08.27 p.m. GMT Thursday.

"It is impossible to do more than guess at what, if anything, has gone wrong, but our assumption was that the Russians intended to make a soft landing of instruments on the lunar surface," he said.

"On that assumption the final stages of firing the retrorockets were only partially successful," Sir Bernard added

"It is interesting to note that the schedules known in American programs for soft landings is that retrorocket firing takes place within a few minutes before landing. There was no indication of that here."

He pointed out that they had no information on the Russian intentions beyond press agency announcements from Tass, but he went on:

"We can only make estimates of what might conceivably have happened We would be surprised if Tass announced that there was anything but a crash landing."

FOR GRANGE . . .

Districting, Taxes Top Problems

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Problems in taxation, reapportionment and government affairs overshadowed discussion of farm prices and income as members of the Nebraska State Grange concluded their 55th annual convention here Thursday.

A call for an all-out effort to retain the state income tax legislation and a request that the assessments of farmers' personal property be on the same basis as on businesses other than farming drew major attention.

The Nebraska Grange would also desire an amendment to the Constitution that would prohibit Congress from passing bills that would increase the national debt, except when the nation is engaged in an all-out war.

Oppose Wage Hike

After lengthy discussion the Grange voted to oppose any increase in the minimum wage rate and it urged Congress not to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act. Section 14B permits states to pass right-to-work laws.

The Grange reaffirmed a previous position that Congress should be urged to pass a constitutional amendment allowing each state to reapportion itself

The Grange also pledged support for fair and vigorous enforcement of the law in regard to the control of civil distrubances and riots.

Grange members explained the absence of resolutions directed toward farm income as the result of present farm legislation being very much in accord with the recommendation of the Grange and that if livestock prices would maintain present levels the four-year feed grains and wheat program might provide much of what farmers have been requesting in support of agriculture.

Tolerance Asked

Grange members asked that the U.S. Department of Agriculture allow some tolerance of pesticide residue in milk. This action follows Acknowledgement by the Department of Agriculture that zero tolerance of pesticide residue in milk is not possible, and that other food items have allowable labels.

The National Grange Convention will be held at Topeka, Kan., Nov. 12-13.

Antiwar Brain Trust Proposed By Britain

Michael Stewart, the British foreign secretary, told the 117-nation General Assembly in a major policy speech that it should consider also establishing a group of mediators to act in specific disputes.

Stewart called further for an end to the fighting in Viet Nam, and resolving of that Asian crisis at the conference table.

Later at a news conference he made clear that Britain considered negotiations could take place either before or after agreement on a ceasefire.

In his speech Stewart said that Britain considers universality of membership essential to the ultimate success of the United Nations, and that is why his government holds firmly to the view that Communist China should be given U N representation

He told the news conference that Britain considers the representation question one of substance, requiring a two-thirds majority vote in the assembly This is the view taken by the United States, which believes it has enough votes to keep the door barred at this assembly session once more to Peking.

Stewart devoted a major share of his speech to the challenge faced by the United Nations in maintaining world peace. Britain has put on the assembly agenda a proposal for U.N. study to create new machinery to smooth differences among nations.

He called for voluntary contributions to a special fund which could be used to finance future peacekeeping operations. He asked also that an increasing number of nations make known their willingness to supply forces for peacekeeping operations

The entire problem of settling disputes, he said, should be referred to a body of "preeminent political and legal experts . . . men of outstanding ability" who would examine all proposals in this field and make recommendations to the assembly.

Highway Beauty Bill OKd In Early Hours

Plans to vote on the bill were suddenly changed Thursday night and the House pushed it through at a night session which ran into early Friday. The roll call vote was 245 to 138.

It was a reported phone call from the White House, declaring the President would like to have the bill passed before he went in the hospital that touched off the change in plans and angry Republican protests. It is sometimes referred to as "Lady Bird's bill," since the President's wife has been plugging hard for its passage

Democrats used their big majority to limit debate on amendments and push the bill to a vote

The process however was drawn out and the House members didn't get to see much of the salute to Congress reception the President gave at the State Department.

The measure, following closely one passed previously by the Senate, would require the states to set up effective controls over billboards and junkyards on their Interstate and primary roads by Jan. 1, 1968 Failure to do so could lead to the loss of 20% of a state's federal highway construction funds

Billboards and junkyards would have to be removed by Jan. 1, 1970, from all affected roads not zoned or used commercially with the owners being compensated for their losses. The federal government would pay 75% of the cost and the states the rest

Among the amendments proposed, and defeated, was one to put the highway beautification program under the administration of the President's wife. The amendment was offered by Rep. Robert Dole, R-Kan.

Rep H R Gross, R-Iowa, offered a suggestion as to where Johnson could sign the bill "In the shade of that big billboard on Route 290 near Austin Tex., that advertises the television station owned by the Johnson family."

PRESIDENT IN GOOD SHAPE

. . . Says Dr. Hallenbeck

Washington (AP)—President Johnson, a hectic, 14-hour day behind him, underwent a routine hospital examination early Friday and got to bed a scant seven hours before his date on the operating table.

He waited until the last minute Thursday before entering Bethesda Naval Hospital, where surgeons will remove his faulty gall bladder.

"I have a midnight deadline," Johnson told a sparsely attended salute to Congress just before he made the 11-mile drive to the hospital

He strode briskly up the steps at 9:40 p.m. CST turned to wave at the top, then walked to a waiting elevator and went to his third floor suite

Not Given Sedatives

White House Press Secretary Bill D Moyers said Johnson retired at 10:28 p.m. CST after a routine, preoperative examination by his doctors. He said the President was not given sedatives

Even though Johnson's arrival at the hospital was far later than expected, Moyers said the operation still was scheduled at about 5:30 a.m. CST.

He said Johnson was in good spirits and "a very relaxed mood" as he drove to the hospital with Mrs. Johnson, Moyers, aide Jack Valenti and Secret Service Agent Rufus Youngblood.

Johnson's last stop before he entered the hospital was at the salute to Congress in the State Department auditorium Most members couldn't make it because the House was busy arguing about a highway beauty program Johnson wanted. The President passed word he was more interested in the bill than the salute It finally passed

Regrets

With midnight drawing near, Johnson told a crowd made up largely of senators and their wives.

"I regret very much that all the members of Congress could not be with us, because they saw their duty — and I hope they are doing it, and I believe they are"

Then, as the sky cleared after a day of heavy rains, he sped off to the hospital.

Deluged with get well wishes from the mighty and the humble, Johnson put in a top-speed day from morning until late at night through speech and ceremony, conference and constitutional, he showed no outward sign of his ailment.

Six Weeks

But Dr George A. Hallenbeck, who will remove the President's gall bladder in a one-to-two-hour operation, said it may be six weeks before Johnson again feels as well as he did Thursday.

Hallenbeck and other presidential doctors in a briefing for newsmen agreed that aside from the faulty gall bladder, Johnson is in excellent health.

While Johnson is in anesthetic sleep, Vice President Hubert H Humphrey will be prepared to act if any emergency decisions become necessary.

Johnson will experience considerable discomfort after the operation, and will be given sedatives, especially during the first 24 hours after surgery. Hallenbeck said.

But he said this would not cloud the President's judgment.

Johnson opened his business day by signing legislation to help rural communities build water and sewerage facilities.

"If we allow our small towns and villages to die on the vine," said the President, "something good and something essential to the America that we know and love is going to die along with them."

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., sponsored the measure.

Referendum Rules Explained

. . . MARSH ADDRESSES LAWYERS

By JOHN DeCAMP
Star Staff Writer

Secretary of State Frank Marsh, in a talk to a group of lawyers and law students Thursday night explored three issues which he said are puzzling Nebraskans

Marsh explained his department's examination of the recently filed income tax referendum petitions, his denial of a filing for the Legislature and the fact that only one candidate has officially filed for office in Nebraska.

Dealing with the referendum problem, Marsh noted several areas his staff was having to watch closely in checking signatures He would not reveal how many, if any, signatures had been disqualified during the incomplete process

LB328, the statute governing referendum procedure, requires each signer give his complete name, all initials spelled out, according to Marsh. He said the date and the signer's correct address must also be included

Many persons tend to indicate their address simply by putting a post office box number. This is not enough according to the statute, Marsh explained.

Other mistakes which Marsh cited as being grounds for disqualification under the statute are incorrectly listing voting precinct or town

Not Accepting Filing

Dealing with the recent controversy over would-be legislative candidate Warren Otto's attempts to file as a candidate from the 24th Legislative District of Seward and York Counties. Marsh stated that he is not accepting Otto's filing at the present time

"The district he is filing for" Marsh said, "will only be in existence until the 18th of November At that time, the new districts created by the reapportionment legally come into existence In effect then that man will be filed as candidate for a district which is not in existence"

Marsh went on to explain the legal problems such a situation could create.

"Let us assume" he said "that after Nov. 18th some other candidate filed from the 24th District Then let us assume he won the election and the man who filed before Nov 18th came in second

"There could be some very hairy problems as to who was legally elected since they would each be a candidate for a different district and each would have been legally filed I do not want these problems and I am sure they don't. That is why I am waiting to accept any candidate's filing" Marsh emphasized.

Otto, of Bradshaw, claims, however, that he is not taking "no" for an answer Marsh said "That's okay by me, but I am not accepting his filing unless instructed by the attorney general to do so."

"I want to make one thing very clear," Marsh said, turning to another matter which he has been questioned about. "There is at this time only one person legally and officially filed as a candidate for the forthcoming primaries. That person is Robert Krall of Lincoln"

Marsh said he had heard news broadcasts and read reports which said that other candidates had filed for office

Secretary of State Frank Marsh, in a talk to a group of lawyers and law students Thursday night, explored three issues which he said are puzzling Nebraskans.

Marsh explained his department's examination of the recently filed income tax referendum petitions, his denial of a filing for the Legislature and the fact that only one candidate has officially filed for office in Nebraska.

Dealing with the referendum problem, Marsh noted several areas his staff was having to watch closely in checking signatures. He would not reveal how many, if any, signatures had been disqualified during the incomplete process.

Other mistakes which Marsh cited as being grounds for disqualification under the statute are incorrectly listing voting precinct or town.

"There could be some very hairy problems as to who was legally elected since they would each be a candidate for a different district and each would have been legally filed. I do not want these problems and I am sure they don't. That is why I am waiting to accept any candidate's filing," Marsh emphasized.

Otto, of Bradshaw, claims, however, that he is not taking "no" for an answer. Marsh said, "That's okay by me, but I am not accepting his filing unless instructed by the attorney general to do so."

"I want to make one thing very clear," Marsh said, turning to another matter which he has been questioned about. "There is at this time only one person legally and officially filed as a candidate for the forthcoming primaries. That person is Robert Krall of Lincoln."

Krall is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress from the First District.

Marsh said he had heard news broadcasts and read reports which said that other candidates had filed for office.

FDR Thought About A-Bombing Germany

Washington (UPI) — President Franklin D. Roosevelt considered using the atom bomb against Germany at a time when he was depressed by Allied reverses in the Battle of the Bulge, it was disclosed Thursday.

On Dec. 31, 1944, Roosevelt called Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and Maj. Gen. (later Lt. Gen.) Leslie R. Groves to the White House for a long morning conference.

The tide was already running for the Allies in the Ardennes, but the president did not know this.

Could the atom bomb be used against Germany? the president asked.

Recalls Talk

He recalled the conversation with Roosevelt in an interview Thursday over a cluttered desk in the study of his Connecticut Avenue apartment

"It was a very serious thing with the president," he said.

Groves said he had certain reservations about bombing Germany and gave Roosevelt several reasons why it would be better to use the bomb against Japan.

One reason was that the war in Europe might end before the bomb was ready. Roosevelt knew the bomb was not expected to be finished for about seven months, but he did not know how long the war in Germany would last in view of the resurgence of the Germany army.

Objections

Among other reasons for Groves' reluctance were the possibility that the Germans might get valuable information if the bomb failed to explode properly, the absence of B29s in Europe and the difficulties of putting them there, and the relatively tougher construction of German buildings

The president listened to these objections. Then he spoke.

Groves said Roosevelt told him, "But it may be necessary."

"He suggested that if the Battle of the Bulge continued to go against us, I should be prepared to use it against Germany," Groves added.

"I replied, 'If it is necessary, then we can do it, Mr. President.' "

News came through shortly of the Allied victory in the Ardennes. Roosevelt never again spoke of atom-bombing Germany, he said.

Unemployment Lowest Since 1957

Washidngton (UPI) — Only 2.8 million Americans were out of work during September, the lowest total since 1957. The seasonally adjusted jobless rate also was the lowest during the eight-year period.

Slightly offsetting the good news was a 1.8 million drop in employment. But the Labor Department, in announcing the job figures, blamed the decrease on many young workers quitting jobs to return to school last month.

The number of jobless Americans declined by 383,000 to 2,875,000. It was the lowest monthly total since October 1957. The result was a drop from 4 5 to 4 4% in the adjusted unemployment rate for the nation's labor force.

The number of married men and women out of work dropped, but the department said teen-age unemployment had inched up during the month.

For married men, the jobless rate was down to 2.2%— equal to the low level of 1957. For adult men, the rate was 3.1%.

Since September 1964, nonfarmed employment has climbed by 2.1 million, the department said. Even teenage employment is up by 550,000 over the year, it added

Harold C. Goldstein, assistant commissioner of labor statistics, said the drop in unemployment below 3 million was a psychological breakthrough even though the change was in line with seasonal trends.

Joblessness has shown a steady decline this year, he said, going down from an average of 4.8% in the first quarter to 4.5% in the past three months.

The drop in teen-age employment — 2.1 million in September alone — was partially offset by a rise of 550,000 in women's employment. This represented the return of teachers and other education workers to school jobs, Goldstein said.

Four Guilty In Group Rape

Los Angeles (UPI)—Four of five young men Thursday were convicted on charges stemming from the group rape of the teen-aged daughter of a police lieutenant who shot a youth he mistakenly thought participated in the assault.

The fifth defendant was acquitted by the all-woman jury on charges arising from the sexual assault on 19-year-old Shirley Diane O'Neal.

George Ulatowski, 18, of Northridge; Mathew Melville, 20, of Chatsworth; and Ford Wood, 20, of Northridge, were all convicted on one count each of forcible rape and two counts each of aiding and abetting rape.

Erick Forrest, 19, of Reseda, was convicted on three counts of aiding and abetting the rape. Ronald Wood, Ford's 21-year-old brother, was acquitted on three counts of aiding and abetting.

The five were accused of participating in the group assault on Miss O'Neal, daughter of Police Lt. Thomas O'Neal as she sold cookbooks door-to-door in the San Fernando Valley.

Anti-Red Stream Kept Up

Jakarta, Indonesia (AP)—The army-controlled Jakarta Radio kept up a flow of anti-communist broadcasts Thursday in the face of a live-and-let-live appeal by President Sukarno About 200 Communists were reported under arrest

Sukarno remained the man in the middle in a conflict stemming from the coup attempt last weekend by a leftist battalion commander of the presidential guard, Lt. Col. Untung.

The chief executive, 64, has welcomed Communist support for the "guided democracy" he has oriented toward Peking policy, while depending on generals of more conservative political beliefs for discipline in the armed services

The Indonesian Communist Party (PKI), which claims 3 million members as the biggest outside the Red sphere, denied in a statement that it was involved in Untung's movement.

First Deputy Premeir Subandrio, who is also foreign minister, told newsmen at Bogor, 40 miles south of Jakarta, that he believed the party's denial

(A broadcast report monitored by Radio Malaysia in Kuala Lumpur said 70 government soldiers were killed in fighting, which has centered largely in central Java, and 60 missing.)

Subandrio said central Java was calm

Jakarta remained quiet. A dusk-to-dawn curfew, imposed by military authorities last Saturday, still was in force. Tanks, armored cars and troops stood guard at key installations and major intersections.

Katz told the American Council on Education, convening here, that "the present college system is well designed to create docile citizens."

U.S. Pursues All Red Peace Hints

Washington (AP) — The Johnson administration is probing all Communist hints of interest in Vietnamese peace, but officials now see no hope of getting the Reds to the negotiating table this year.

An earlier belief among Washington policy makers that the end of the monsoon season in Viet Nam could bring the beginning of peace talks has collapsed for lack of support. State Department authorities reported Thursday that even though the military situation has been going against the Viet Cong guerrillas and North Viet Nam, there have been no real overtures from Hanoi, public or secret

These reports are taken seriously here They are subject to the interpretation that the Red Chinese might be interested in encouraging North Viet Nam to make peace, but actually all signs point the other way, indicating that the Chinese are encouraging the North Vietnamese to continue the war

The latest maneuver of the diplomatic front, which stirred wide interest at the United Nations, was a speech by Hungarian Foreign Minister Janos Peter declaring that U.S. talk about peace has no value whatever until what he called U.S. aggression against North Viet Nam is stopped He said U.S. air strikes against the north must be stopped. He reported he spoke with the knowledge of Communist leaders in Hanoi

Peter followed up his speech with a 70-minute talk with Secretary of State Dean Rusk in New York Thursday and later told newsmen an end to bombings would create "a situation in which negotiations can surely be reached."

Asked whether that would be the only preliminary necessary to negotiations, Peter said, "There may be several complicated questions which should be dealt with before negotiations." but he insisted cessation of bombing is the essential first step.

Half The States Have Revamped Legislatures On Equality Lines

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

Washington (AP)—In the great political ferment touched off by the Supreme Court's "one-man, one-vote" decision, plans for revamping state legislatures have now been adopted in 25 states.

Fifteen other states are in the throes of reapportionment, either under court orders or the pressure of lawsuits.

Even before the high court decision in June last year, five states had reapportioned their legislatures, essentially in line with the principle that both houses must be based on population—"one man, one vote."

Long Road Ahead

That makes a grand total of 45 of the 50 states, but—

In many of these states the newly adopted plans fall short—sometimes far short—of a strict population basis. Much further litigation, many more court decisions lie ahead.

Legislators from rural areas are still fighting hard to salvage what power they can from the surging political revolution which is adding great voting strength to metropolitan areas, especially fast-growing suburbs.

Major questions remain unsolved, notably just how far reapportionment may depart from a strictly mathematical population basis and still pass muster before the courts.

In a Georgia reapportionment case, a federal district court said the maximum permissible deviation is 15% That is, a legislative district could not be 15% more populous, nor 15% less populous, than the average district in the state.

Court Hasn't Spoken

Many legislators and lawyers have assumed that this 15% rule would be declared constitutional in the last analysis, but the U.S. Supreme Court has yet to say the final word.

The 25 states where reapportionment plans have been adopted since June 1964 are Alabama, Alaska, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Michigan, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia and Washington.

States which are under court orders, or under pressure of lawsuits, to reapportion but have not completed the task, are Arizona, California, Hawaii, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Maryland Minnesota Missouri Nevada New Mexico Ohio Pennsylvania Rhode Island, Wyoming

The five states which were pretty well in line with the one-man, one-vote principle before it was enunciated by the Supreme Court are Kentucky, Massachusetts, Oregon, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

In two states present apportionment is being challenged by lawsuits They are Louisiana and North Carolina The governor of North Carolina, Dan K. Moore, has said he would fight the suit.

In only three states where apportionment does not conform to a strict population basis is there an absence of litigation. They are Maine, Mississippi and South Carolina.

The political fighting has been intense and complex. For example Indiana has seen three reapportionment plans knocked out.

On Oct. 4 a federal court threw out Alabama's plan for reapportioning its lower house, on the ground that it was a gerrymander aimed at keeping Negroes out of the legislature. The court then reapportioned the house itself.

When the 1965 Montana legislature failed to agree on reapportionment, a three-judge federal court decreed a plan for the 1966 election. It is considered to come as close as possible to "one man, one vote."

In many states, rural legislators are not giving up easily. For example, the Arizona senate passed a bill under which a senator from Mohave County would represent 7,700 people and a senator from Maricopa County, site of Phoenix, might have 66,000 constituents. Such proposals are not likely to survive.

Cities 'Short-Changed'

Generally, the backers of the U.S. Supreme Court decision have contended that cities and suburbs have been short-changed, on such things as schools, transportation and urban renewal, by rural-minded legislatures.

The latter have replied that farmers and residents of small towns have special problems which would be neglected under a "dictatorship of the majority."

Farmers and their sympathizers have been pinning great hopes on the proposed Dirksen constitutional amendment which would permit one house of a state legislature to be apportioned on a basis other than population, if voters approved.

But the amendment offered by Sen Everett M Dirksen of Illinois, Senate Republican leader, has been put over until the next session of Congress, and its prospects are dubious.

One good century deserves another

Crete's New $1 Million Plant Warmly Greeted

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Crete—A new slice of area prosperity came from the butcher knife of Gov. Frank Morrison Thursday as he officially opened the $1 million plant of Allen Products, Inc.

Scarcely had the ribbon been cut for the 100-employe facility when president Robert F Hunsicker predicted "a doubled capacity within two years at the outside" Nearly 200 persons—many of them helpmates in attracting the industry—attended the ceremony and luncheon.

'Great Opportunity'

This plant not only indicates that Crete and other communities are determined to move ahead," said the governor, "but also that industry has confidence in Nebraska and that we have a great opportunity for broadening our industrial base"

Hunsicker, founder of the dog food firm recently sold to Liggett and Myers, said Crete was selected after a long search for "the perfect site" for national marketing. Output of the new 40,000-square-foot plant will mean a 50% increase in sales for the Allentown, Pa., company.

"We liked everything we saw here—the city, its citizens, the feeling of progress and friendliness," the president continued. "And we appreciate the apparent desire to give a fair day's work for a fair day's pay."

Opening in late August, the cannery processes seven kinds of meat that all come to Crete frozen. The product is 100% meat and is nationally advertised under the Alpo brand.

Ultra-Modern Plant

Its ultra-modern infra-red oven particularly impressive, the plant was toured by several hundred persons during an open house. It is located along Highway 33 northeast of town.

Manager John F. Maher presided at the luncheon, its guest list including a number of state officials in addition to the governor. Acting Mayor Richard Buck headed the list of persons invited from Crete.

David Osterhout, chief of the Division of Nebraska Resources, was commended for his efforts in locating the industry. Other state dignitaries present were Secretary of State Frank Marsh, Labor Commissioner Lambert Eitel and Director of Environmental Health Services T. A. Filipi.

Patrolman Left Trapped After 3-Car Accident

Sidney (UPI) — Authorities were seeking two men involved in a three-car accident who left a state patrolman trapped in the wreckage of his patrol car.

The patrolman, John C. Trenerry, 31, Sidney, finally managed to crawl out a rear window of the car. He was not hospitalized.

The accident occurred 2½ miles east of here on Highway 30.

Trenerry said he was chasing a speeder west on the highway when another car made a left turn in front of the speeding car. The speeder veered to one side, narrowly missing the turning car.

The patrol car, however, went off the south side of the road and rolled over on its top.

Trenerry said the two other drivers stopped, got out of their cars, talked things over, and then left him trapped in the car.

The patrol said they have a good description of the two vehicles and the investigation was continuing.

Ostler Victim Of Tyranny, Say Attorneys

Former Omaha police chief C. Harold Ostler is a "dedicated public servant" who was a victim of "administrative tyranny" when he was suspended and demoted last year, Ostler's attorneys told the state Supreme Court Thursday.

"The only thing Ostler was guilty of is being too good a chief of police," said attorney Einar Viren.

"The public did not suffer from the conduct of Mr. Ostler while he was chief," said attorney Irving Epstein.

Attorney John Samson, representing Harry A. Meister of Omaha, disagreed.

"The chief didn't work along with his director," Samson said. "The record is abundantly clear that Ostler did not follow the rules and regulations and did not obey the orders of his superior."

Ostler was suspended by then-public safety director Chris Gugas on March 10 of last year for a period of 15 days, then demoted to captain, a rank now held by Ostler.

Ostler appealed to the City Personnel Board, which upheld Gugas' decision, but Douglas County District Court Judge Robert L. Smith ordered the personnel board to reconsider the case.

Meister carried the case to the Supreme Court after city officials decided not to appeal Judge Smith's ruling.

Viren and Epstein Thursday asked the high court to reverse the personnel board and order Ostler's reinstatement as chief and payment of chief's pay retroactive to March 10, 1964.

Samson said Gugas decided to suspend and demote Ostler specifically because the chief refused to name a lieutenant as head of the vice squad, but Samson said Ostler had not co-operated with Gugas prior to that incident either.

'Used Council'

"Ostler used the City Council and the press as a sounding board for matters which should have been handled within the department," Samson said. "In a semi-military set-up, such things should not be done."

Viren said Ostler "did everything possible to get along with a man whose sole purpose and political obligation was to get rid of the chief."

He said the suspension and demotion was "without a basis of fact or law"

Judge Smith overruled the Personnel Board on the grounds the board did not file written findings of fact when announcing its decision, Ostler was accused of breaking rules and regulations which cover only lower ranking officers, and the city charter does not permit both the invoking of suspension and demotion at the same time.

York—The Junior Livestock Feeders show and sale here Thursday saw 58 boys and girls displaying 340 steers in the fourth annual event where all entrants begin the same day and end their project with packer buyers serving as judges and the buyers

Livestock men have tabbed the program that stresses management and practical lessons in cattle feeding as a "realistic livestock program that teaches fundamental lessons."

Champion pens of six shown by Gene Jackson of Fairmont on Herefords and Gene Schlechte of Waco on Angus both sold for the top figure of $27 per cwt. paid by Swift and Co.

L. V. "Pete" Peterson, agricultural representative of the First National Bank of York, said the young feeders produced more quality than ever before with 29 pens being awarded purple ribbons.

Monday evening an achievement dinner will be held for the young livestock feeders with awards and trophies presented the winners at that time, Peterson said.

Near 50 boys and girls have already signed up for the 1965-66 program where the calves are purchased and cared for approximately 350 days with complete records maintained on feed costs and cost of grain

Crete's New $1 Million Plant Warmly Greeted

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Crete—A new slice of area prosperity came from the butcher knife of Gov. Frank Morrison Thursday as he officially opened the $1 million plant of Allen Products, Inc.

Scarcely had the ribbon been cut for the 100-employe facility when president Robert F. Hunsicker predicted "a doubled capacity within two years at the outside." Nearly 200 persons—many of them helpmates in attracting the industry—attended the ceremony and luncheon.

'Great Opportunity'

"This plant not only indicates that Crete and other communities are determined to move ahead," said the governor, "but also that industry has confidence in Nebraska and that we have a great opportunity for broadening our industrial base."

Hunsicker, founder of the dog food firm recently sold to Liggett and Myers, said Crete was selected after a long search for "the perfect site" for national marketing. Output of the new 40,000-square-foot plant will mean a 50% increase in sales for the Allentown, Pa., company.

"We liked everything we saw here—the city, its citizens, the feeling of progress and friendliness," the president continued. "And we appreciate the apparent desire to give a fair day's work for a fair day's pay."

Opening in late August, the cannery processes seven kinds of meat that all come to Crete frozen. The product is 100% meat and is nationally advertised under the Alpo brand.

Ultra-Modern Plant

Its ultra-modern infra-red oven particularly impressive, the plant was toured by several hundred persons during an open house. It is located along Highway 33 northeast of town.

Manager John F. Maher presided at the luncheon, its guest list including a number of state officials in addition to the governor. Acting Mayor Richard Buck headed the list of persons invited from Crete.

David Osterhout, chief of the Division of Nebraska Resources, was commended for his efforts in locating the industry. Other state dignitaries present were Secretary of State Frank Marsh, Labor Commissioner Lambert Eitel and Director of Environmental Health Services T. A. Filipi.

Patrolman Left Trapped After 3-Car Accident

Sidney (UPI) — Authorities were seeking two men involved in a three-car accident who left a state patrolman trapped in the wreckage of his patrol car.

The patrolman, John C. Trenerry, 31, Sidney, finally managed to crawl out a rear window of the car. He was not hospitalized.

The accident occurred 2½ miles east of here on Highway 30.

Trenerry said he was chasing a speeder west on the highway when another car made a left turn in front of the speeding car. The speeder veered to one side, narrowly missing the turning car.

The patrol car, however, went off the south side of the road and rolled over on its top.

Trenerry said the two other drivers stopped, got out of their cars, talked things over, and then left him trapped in the car.

The patrol said they have a good description of the two vehicles and the investigation was continuing.

Ostler Victim Of Tyranny, Say Attorneys

Former Omaha police chief C. Harold Ostler is a "dedicated public servant" who was a victim of "administrative tyranny" when he was suspended and demoted last year, Ostler's attorneys told the state Supreme Court Thursday.

"The only thing Ostler was guilty of is being too good a chief of police," said attorney Einar Viren.

"The public did not suffer from the conduct of Mr. Ostler while he was chief," said attorney Irving Epstein.

Attorney John Samson, representing Harry A. Meister of Omaha, disagreed.

"The chief didn't work along with his director," Samson said. "The record is abundantly clear that Ostler did not follow the rules and regulations and did not obey the orders of his superior."

Ostler was suspended by then-public safety director Chris Gugas on March 10 of last year for a period of 15 days, then demoted to captain, a rank now held by Ostler.

Ostler appealed to the City Personnel Board, which upheld Gugas' decision, but Douglas County District Court Judge Robert L. Smith ordered the personnel board to reconsider the case.

Meister carried the case to the Supreme Court after city officials decided not to appeal Judge Smith's ruling.

Viren and Epstein Thursday asked the high court to reverse the personnel board and order Ostler's reinstatement as chief and payment of chief's pay retroactive to March 10, 1964.

Samson said Gugas decided to suspend and demote Ostler specifically because the chief refused to name a lieutenant as head of the vice squad, but Samson said Ostler had not co-operated with Gugas prior to that incident either.

'Used Council'

"Ostler used the City Council and the press as a sounding board for matters which should have been handled within the department," Samson said. "In a semi-military set-up, such things should not be done."

Viren said Ostler "did everything possible to get along with a man whose sole purpose and political obligation was to get rid of the chief."

He said the suspension and demotion was "without a basis of fact or law."

Judge Smith overruled the Personnel Board on the grounds the board did not file written findings of fact when announcing its decision, Ostler was accused of breaking rules and regulations which cover only lower ranking officers, and the city charter does not permit both the invoking of suspension and demotion at the same time.

Can't Muzzle Officials

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

"Unfortunate" might be the best way to describe the recent City Hall controversy over remarks made by Utilities Director Lee Blocker. Blocker was quoted as telling a civic club that the city must oppose the discussed Army Corps of Engineers dam on the Platte River near Ashland. Subsequently, the utilities director was criticized by City Councilman John Mason who said it should be made clear that Blocker's view is not the official city position.

Thus, two things really are in contention—the matter of the dam and the matter of public statements by city administrators. Fortunately, Lincoln has always had administrators who were free to express themselves. Because of the willingness of these people to discuss the affairs of the city, the people of Lincoln have been well informed on the affairs of their government. As a general rule, it would be a sad mistake to muzzle city administrators and require all statements to come from the mayor or City Council. Often, an administrator is the only one who really knows the full facts of a situation and his explanation is invaluable.

Administrators Informed

But the situation also works some in the other direction. In the determination of policy matters, the burden of responsibility must fall on the mayor and City Council, not the administrators. It would appear that Blocker was in a kind of gray area, not exactly policy and not exactly administration.

What he told the civic club was simply his personal opinion, not the official position of the city. He was speaking, however, in an area of vital concern to Lincoln involving decisions of policy that have not even been made.

Blocker was probably a little premature, too, since the status of the Platte River dam is highly uncertain at this time. His concern over the city's water supply at Ashland is natural and one he should have but he should not assume that the dam is a threat to this supply. There are a multitude of problems to be solved before the dam could ever become a possibility and the Lincoln water supply is one of them. The position of Lincoln ought to be, however, that it wants to try to help solve these problems. Even the exact location of the dam is not yet fixed and no one knows if the project will ever even get that far. But if it should be fixed at some later date, it is possible that it would allow for a moving of the Lincoln water wells or that they might even be left where they are.

It does seem to be a short-sighted attitude on the part of any city official who would take a position at this time in outright opposition to the proposed dam. The dam would constitute probably the biggest body of water in the state and provide eastern Nebraska with a major recreation and tourist attraction. In effect, it would be a whole new industry of sizable proportions for all the areas surrounding it. At the same time, it could be a contributing factor to stability of Lincoln's water supply from the waters of the Platte River. The city has little enough assurance of the constancy of this supply that it should be interested in any conservation program.

In summers gone by, the Platte has already run dry or very nearly so past the Lincoln wells. These wells take their water from the underground supplies below the river bed but this underground supply would not last long in the face of a dry river bed. It isn't hard to understand that ground water supplies must come from surface water sources. Water just doesn't spring from the center of the earth out.

Also, the Platte dam would improve flood control and navigation along the Missouri River which it feeds. This is not of primary concern to Lincoln but surely Lincoln is interested in the improvement of these things for towns such as Omaha that live along the Missouri. Ultimately, Lincoln shares in the general prosperity or hardships of the entire Missouri River valley.

Thus, it is our opinion that Blocker has a poor outlook on the proposal about which he spoke. Whether we simply disagree with him or whether he was out of line in speaking as he did is a tough question to settle. But it can be said with certainty that the City Council and mayor would want to go very slow in eliminating all comment by administrative officials. Such a string can be tied very loosely at first but it can quickly become a knot that no one can untie. You then have a centralization of power that is worse than the shortcoming it was intended to correct.

A Knot Soon A Noose

If Blocker did err, he did so unintentionally as he knows full well that the city has taken no official stand in the matter. If he is perhaps more discreet in the future, all is well but anything more than that would be a precedent we would hate to see established. It is also hoped that Lincoln finds a path leading to full and unqualified support of the Platte River project.

"I Feel Like A Sitting Dove"

Faulty Work On Midway

A good understanding of the cause of the fatal collapse of a ride at this year's State Fair now seems to be possible. A rides manufacturer has reported to the state that the sky ride that fell on the midway was not properly constructed. As a result, the cable on which the ride moved became jammed or locked but continued to pull, pulling down the tower on which it was mounted.

The detailed explanation is a little more complicated than that in describing the pieces of equipment involved but the essence of the report is very clear. If one can assume the report to be valid, the midway disaster can now be viewed in the kind of perspective that should prevent such a thing from happening again in the future. This, after all, is the purpose of any such report, not simply to place the blame somewhere.

From Nebraska's point of view, the only thing that could have prevented the midway tragedy would have been presence on the grounds of a state safety engineer. Perhaps such a person could have seen the dangers that existed in this particular ride and had the shortcomings corrected or banned use of the device.

There is nothing that can be done now about what has happened. We cannot relive the past, as much as we might like to do so. We can only look to the future and this we have done. Already, the State Fair Board has approved the hiring of a safety engineer and he will be on the job when next year's fair rolls around. His job will not be an easy one but it will be reassuring to the public. With what we have learned we should find substantial protection in the future.

Senate Okays Bail Reform

The United States Senate has voted approval of federal bail reform legislation and thus opened the way for the states to do likewise.

Bail is a facility of our system of justice, calculated to keep the accused from running away from his trial, yet giving him freedom after his arrest until his trial is held. It is usually expressed in terms of dollars which must be forfeited in event the defendant fails to return for trial. The defendant, himself, if he has sufficient money or property, may post the bail. If he does not have sufficient funds it is generally provided by a professional bondsman, at a price. If the defendant cannot make bail in any manner he remains in jail while awaiting trial, sometimes many months.

The bail reform act seeks to de-emphasize the ability to pay as a factor in pretrial liberty. It directs federal officers of the court to release persons, except those charged with capital crimes, on their own recognizance with conditions. These conditions do not substantially affect his liberty, but they can place him under the watchful eye of an individual and can limit his travel rights.

Certainly it is wrong to put a price tag on liberty for that means the poor man cannot enjoy rights equal to those of a wealthy person. And a number of recent experiments have shown that most individuals return for their trial and that bail bonding is an unnecessary expense to them. But the reform, if it carries, places a heavy burden on the officers of the court in determining who can be safely turned loose.

Sen. Mundt's Problem

The nation has always considered Sen. Karl Mundt, of South Dakota, an arch-conservative. Even the far right credits him with voting satisfactorily 75% of the time and holds most of the 25 per cent disapproval to his favorable votes for agricultural programs.

Like Sen. Carl Curtis, of Nebraska, Sen. Mundt was an early plugger for Barry Goldwater and extended himself for the presidential candidate during the recent campaign. We believe that should the far right get hold of the government it could live comfortably with what little liberalism Mundt has shown. But apparently not.

A California John Bircher, with a couple of aids, has returned to his native South Dakota, opened up a far right book shop in Sioux Falls and has announced himself as a candidate against Mundt in the forthcoming Republican primaries. And he and his aids are very busy distributing literature and campaigning.

Now Sen. Mundt could expect liberals and Democrats to oppose him, but he has every reason to expect the far right to give him aid and comfort. He is naturally disconcerted.

It would be a great surprise if the newcomer actually beat Sen. Mundt out of the nomination. But South Dakota is a strong reactionary state and he could, even in losing, make life very difficult for the veteran senator. Certainly there will be some splitting of Republican ranks. We shall see.

Offhand it seems like a destructive move labeling the Birch cause as an all or nothing thing with no room in the organization for anyone but themselves. One can't build a majority party that way. And good friend Sen. Mundt has now been given due cause to rethink many of his loyalties.

Politics Harms Poverty Program

Editor's Note: Drew Pearson, following a tour of Africa, is in the hospital with malaria. In his absence the column is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.

WASHINGTON—A few unscrupulous promoters and politicians have been playing politics with poverty, sometimes fattening their own wallets with funds that were supposed to go to the poor.

Not only have war-on-poverty workers been turning in outrageous expense vouchers, but some doctors have been pocketing exorbitant fees for examining impoverished children. Anti-poverty Czar Sargent Shriver has ordered a crackdown.

The worst scandal is about to blow wide open in New York City where Haryou-Act, the joint federal-city agency to combat poverty, has overdrawn its bank account by $207,000 and run up another $200,000 in unpaid bills.

Shriver rushed a $400,000 retroactive appropriation to New York city to save the program from collapse and sent in federal auditors to examine the ledgers. But District Attorney Frank Hogan stepped in ahead and subpoenaed the books. He has already found serious irregularities.

Complaints have also come in from neighborhood Youth Corps centers in the Southwest, Midwest and Northwest that youths from well-to-do homes have been given the part-time jobs that were supposed to go to the needy.

Mayor Howard Heinz of Carlinville, Ill., told investigators frankly that he thought the Youth Corps jobs were supposed to be handed out as political patronage.

Shriver's sleuths are now checking similar complaints of patronage in the Chicago anti-poverty program.

In the District of Columbia, one worker loaned money out of his own pocket to the needy, but investigators discovered he was also charging shylock interest rates.

In Mississippi, doctors and dentists were paid a set fee for each child they examined for the pre-school Head Start program. Some doctors rushed the little Negro youngsters through the exams so fast that they were able to collect $100 an hour. Some dentists didn't even take the time to prepare dental charts on the children.

Investigators reported widespread racial discrimination in the Mississipi anti-poverty program, yet officials have taken action in only two cases.

In the Southwest, doctors were also found processing the Mexican-American children en masse but giving complete examinations to the white children.

The harassed Shriver is doing his best to clean up the scandals and to find workers dedicated to helping the poor.

Beauty Campaign Well Under Way

WASHINGTON—Mrs. Lyndon Johnson has made "beauty" a good word in politics today except possibly in the House of Representatives, many of whose members seem to prefer to put their trust in billboards.

President Johnson is spending much of his remaining time before entering Bethesda Naval Hospital in trying to persuade them otherwise, but the final decision this week is expected to be close.

What he is up against was illustrated by one congressman, besieged in his office by a series of conference calls from billboard lobbyists. The congressman emerged chanting his own timely version of the Joyce Kilmer lines:

"I think that I shall never see
So many billboards promised free."

His colleagues agreed that they had seldom experienced such generosity with respect to a campaign weapon, even one made politically obsolescent by the advent of television. Also, the billboard operators are relatively few, while the great army of women in garden and civic clubs and the devoted conservationists are watching the beautification vote and will remember it.

Also watching in the wings are managing editors of the Associated Press who asked Mrs. Johnson to make them a speech on beauty last week, a task she approached with some trepidation, knowing them to be cynics by nature of their profession. But they promptly confessed their past sins and joined the ranks of the converted.

Their president, George Beebe, assured her of their "enthusiastic and complete support." Arville Schaleben, executive editor of the Milwaukee Journal, warned that only a few years remain until disaster is full upon us.

Mrs. Johnson's beautification crusade is really the only major effort so far in the Great Society to improve the quality of American life. This was one of the great goals of the late President Kennedy, and it was a major contribution to the growth of his reputation in intellectual circles.

The Great Society so far has mainly concentrated on expanding social and economic benefits, and it was perhaps instinctive with the earthy President to put beauty in his wife's name for the time being. He has not stinted on his own help, and recalcitrant members of Congress have reason to know it.

Washington is often behind the country in its recognition of the new currents in American life. This is especially true of Congress, whose system of seniority approaches Chinese ancestor worship and gives undue weight to the cultural standards of its elder members. The long sessions of Congress also operate against the grass roots.

Even if she loses an engagement, Mrs. Johnson will not quit the beautification war. Her heavy mail on the subject has convinced her that she is on the right track. She has been careful and courteous in her arguments, but it has occurred to her to wonder why there is so much resistance to the concept of "America the Beautiful," which she so often hears sung with so much fervor.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Fooey On Fall Fun And Frolic

By MONA B. PARKER

On every autumn-colored side, one hears praise and exaltation of the glories of the season, these days. However, there seems to be at least one non-conformist in our midst . .

Helen Lough of the Albion News wants no part of fall. It's never been her favorite season and this year is even less so. Maybe the leaves are pretty—on the tree—she concedes. But they clutter up the ground beneath soon enough, to be raked and burned and hence to fog up the air. Then along come seasonal ailments—flu, rheumatism and colds.

☆ ☆ ☆

There's at least one element of this time of year that Eleanor Seberger wants no part of, either. When a Dawson County Herald reader wrote in about freezing chokecherries and making jelly and pies, the columnist said, no thanks. She'd had too many seasons of pitting normal cherries, she groaned, to want to bother with something even smaller. And "a neighbor's experience with poison oak, ivy and sumac has made me suspicious of strange woodsy places."

☆ ☆ ☆

Being twice absent-minded paid off richly, or perhaps we should say, dryly, for one Kearneyite. Looking out his office window at a downpour of rain, he was regretting that he had forgotten to bring his raincoat to work. Then he checked the cloakroom and found he had forgotten to take it home.

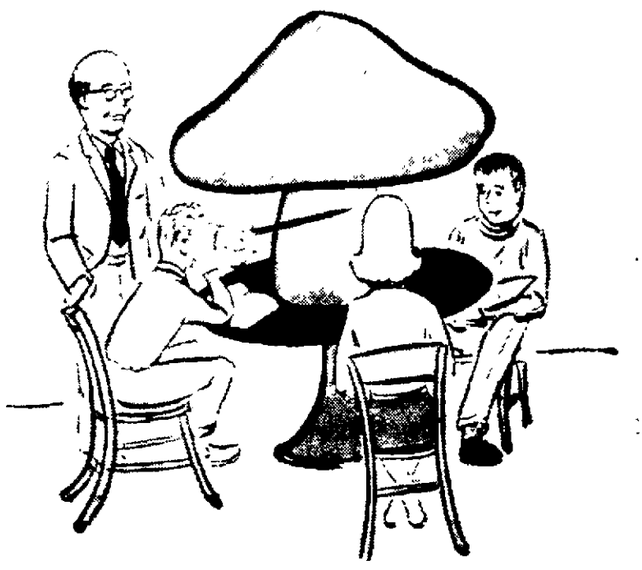
Sunshine after rain may bring smiles and a lifting of dreary day spirits, but it also sends the meticulous housewife into an absolute



There has been much complaining about the wetness of the weather—what it does, crop-wise, mood-wise and otherwise. However, to paraphrase the old saying, it's a sorry rainstorm that doesn't dribble down a few benefits here and there across the damp terrain. One high school science class in Hastings was the recipient of one of the lesser advantages. Using some outside mushrooms for special study, one of the puff balls was found to measure seven inches in diameter.

Speaking of one's state of mind and such . . .

The Oxford Standard puzzled a bit over something that is supposed to be basic, and declares in favor of a slight alteration, or at least compromise . . .

"We keep reading that it is better to be poor and happy than to be rich and be unhappy. But we're wondering if something can't be worked out so a fellow can be moderately rich and just moody."

People aren't the only ones given to temperament, as a result of weather or wealth . . .

Mrs. Roy Ahrndt, who writes for the Scribner Rustler, says hay has been rather a lost cause up around there this year. Hay that her husband did get raked off the field between showers wasn't much good. He turned it several times, then pushed it into piles and moved it to the pasture "where the cattle just smelled it and walked back and ate grass."

The Bertrand Herald dubs it "Apple Exchange Week" there. Sudden cooler weather sent growers to gathering the fruit and putting it into basements, fruit jars or deep-freezes. In most instances, individuals having an oversupply, there has been much cross-swapping, Delicious for Jonathans, etc.

The Herald then offered a few fruity statistics that were interesting. American homemakers buy apples at least once a week. Applesauce is used by 85% of the women. Four out of five use them for cooking, all use them raw. In Nebraska, there are 10 major orchards and about 17 varieties of apples grown in the state.

It seems that no matter what is done, you can't please everybody. Most people thought the pages on the Ten Commandments to be a refreshing change from the images of whiskey, beer and new car ads that usually are found there.

As to Anglo-Saxon whites being used, well, if Negroes had been pictured a flood of letters would have declared that the impression had been made that Negroes were flagrant violators of the Ten Commandments.

Consider also that any picture in a newspaper, magazine, book, illustrated Bible or Sunday school pamphlet qualifies as a graven image and more so the statues of Christ and the Mother Mary, paintings of Christ by Da Vinci and others, stained picture windows in churches, money and china statuettes of people and animals.

And as for criticism of ministers sponsoring these pages—is this another manifestation of the current trend to ban religion in the church on Sunday, and not ever to let it enter our daily lives?

The Subsidies

Hastings, Neb.

According to news reports, some railway executives had urged the 89th Congress to provide government subsidies for railroads. And now Congress will use $90 million of government funds to build a modern railroad that will have a road bed that railway executives never thought of building. The trains on that road will run at 150 miles per hour for a distance of 226 miles, from Washington, D.C. to New York City. And the government will lease the railroad to the Pennsylvania Railroad. Such an arrangement should give the United States Chamber of Commerce an opportunity to object to government interference with private ownership of railroads.

The Union Pacific Railroad and the Burlington system should not be satisfied to operate their trains from Chicago to Pacific Coast cities at a snail's pace, as compared to the much faster trains on the East Coast. Therefore, the executives of those lines should demand that the 89th Congress appropriate a few hundred millions of federal funds to bring these Midwest railroads up to a par with the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Of course, the hicks who live in the sticks west of Chicago could not stand to travel at 150 miles an hour on a railroad. And the congressional delegations from the Midwest know that their constituents could not stand to ride a train traveling that fast.

Warning Note

Lincoln, Neb.

Cuba was lost to the free world after the warning voices failed to persuade. Have we learned something or not?

In these days, we hear about two other countries, South Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. The cry of "Yankee, go home!" is accentuated by the sound of bomb explosions. What does it mean? Shall it be a retreat after good initial efforts for saving liberty?

The voice of warning sounded by the expelled Dominican patriot should be heard. We do not need another Cuba in our vicinity.

Pities The KKK

Bennet, Neb.

No doubt many of those who viewed the TV program about the escapades of the KKK organization a few weeks ago had an eye-opener.

Of course, we know that such nitwit organizations eventually blow over, but they naturally do some harm while they have their fling. They still can't fool all of the people all of the time.

An old Swedish proverb ends, "Hate less, love more," but the Klan, like the communists, have it backwards. It's very true what the ex-Klansman said on the program — that most of them want to be big wheels and it's the only chance they ever have. No doubt they had poor bringing up and communicated only with those who were of the same type.

Since there is no punishment nor reward comparable to that of the conscience, perhaps they should be more pitied than censured.

Politics Harms Poverty Program

Editor's Note: Drew Pearson, following a tour of Africa, is in the hospital with malaria. In his absence the column is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.

WASHINGTON—A few unscrupulous promoters and politicians have been playing politics with poverty, sometimes fattening their own wallets with funds that were supposed to go to the poor.

Not only have war-on-poverty workers been turning in outrageous expense vouchers, but some doctors have been pocketing exorbitant fees for examining impoverished children. Anti-poverty Czar Sargent Shriver has ordered a crackdown.

The worst scandal is about to blow wide open in New York City where Haryou-Act, the joint federal-city agency to combat poverty, has overdrawn its bank account by $207,000 and run up another $200,000 in unpaid bills.

Shriver rushed a $400,000 retroactive appropriation to New York city to save the program from collapse and sent in federal auditors to examine the ledgers. But District Attorney Frank Hogan stepped in ahead and subpoenaed the books. He has already found serious irregularities.

Complaints have also come in from neighborhood Youth Corps centers in the Southwest, Midwest and Northwest that youths from well-to-do homes have been given the part-time jobs that were supposed to go to the needy.

Mayor Howard Heinz of Carlinville, Ill., told investigators frankly that he thought the Youth Corps jobs were supposed to be handed out as political patronage.

Shriver's sleuths are now checking similar complaints of patronage in the Chicago anti-poverty program.

In the District of Columbia, one worker loaned money out of his own pocket to the needy, but investigators discovered he was also charging shylock interest rates.

In Mississippi, doctors and dentists were paid a set fee for each child they examined for the pre-school Head Start program. Some doctors rushed the little Negro youngsters through the exams so fast that they were able to collect $100 an hour. Some dentists didn't even take the time to prepare dental charts on the children.

Investigators reported widespread racial discrimination in the Mississipi anti-poverty program, yet officials have taken action in only two cases.

In the Southwest, doctors were also found processing the Mexican-American children en masse but giving complete examinations to the white children.

The harassed Shriver is doing his best to clean up the scandals and to find workers dedicated to helping the poor.

Beauty Campaign Well Under Way

WASHINGTON—Mrs. Lyndon Johnson has made "beauty" a good word in politics today except possibly in the House of Representatives, many of whose members seem to prefer to put their trust in billboards.

President Johnson is spending much of his remaining time before entering Bethesda Naval Hospital in trying to persuade them otherwise, but the final decision this week is expected to be close.

What he is up against was illustrated by one congressman, besieged in his office by a series of conference calls from billboard lobbyists. The congressman emerged chanting his own timely version of the Joyce Kilmer lines:

"I think that I shall never see

So many billboards promised free."

His colleagues agreed that they had seldom experienced such generosity with respect to a campaign weapon, even one made politically obsolescent by the advent of television. Also, the billboard operators are relatively few, while the great army of women in garden and civic clubs and the devoted conservationists are watching the beautification vote and will remember it.

Also watching in the wings are managing editors of the Associated Press who asked Mrs. Johnson to make them a speech on beauty last week, a task she approached with some trepidation, knowing them to be cynics by nature of their profession. But they promptly confessed their past sins and joined the ranks of the converted.

Their president, George Beebe, assured her of their "enthusiastic and complete support." Arville Schaleben, executive editor of the Milwaukee Journal, warned that only a few years remain until disaster is full upon us.

Mrs. Johnson's beautification crusade is really the only major effort so far in the Great Society to improve the quality of American life. This was one of the great goals of the late President Kennedy, and it was a major contribution to the growth of his reputation in intellectual circles.

The Great Society so far has mainly concentrated on expanding social and economic benefits, and it was perhaps instinctive with the earthy President to put beauty in his wife's name for the time being. He has not stinted on his own help, and recalcitrant members of Congress have reason to know it.

Washington is often behind the country in its recognition of the new currents in American life. This is especially true of Congress, whose system of seniority approaches Chinese ancestor worship and gives undue weight to the cultural standards of its elder members. The long sessions of Congress also operate against the grass roots.

Even if she loses an engagement, Mrs. Johnson will not quit the beautification war. Her heavy mail on the subject has convinced her that she is on the right track. She has been careful and courteous in her arguments, but it has occurred to her to wonder why there is so much resistance to the concept of "America the Beautiful," which she so often hears sung with so much fervor.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

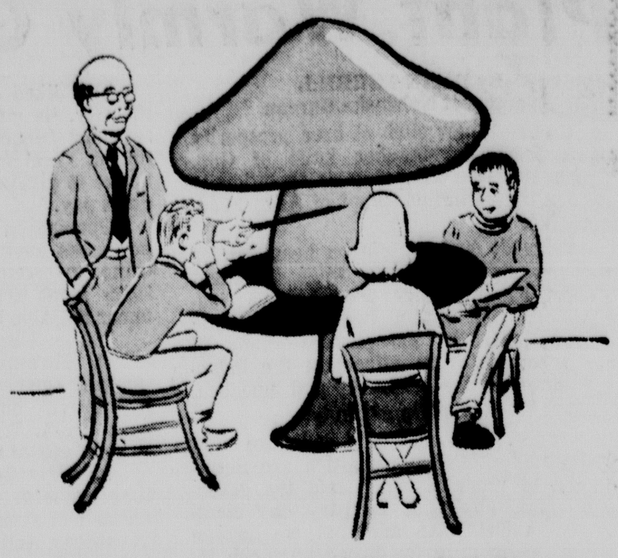
By MONA B. PARKER



On every autumn-colored side, one hears praise and exaltation of the glories of the season, these days. However, there seems to be at least one non-conformist in our midst . . .

Helen Lough of the Albion News wants no part of fall. It's never been her favorite season and this year is even less so. Maybe the leaves are pretty—on the tree—she concedes. But they clutter up the ground beneath soon enough, to be raked and burned and hence to fog up the air. Then along come seasonal ailments—flu, rheumatism and colds.

☆ ☆ ☆

There's at least one element of this time of year that Eleanor Seberger wants no part of, either. When a Dawson County Herald reader wrote in about freezing chokecherries and making jelly and pies, the columnist said, no thanks. She'd had too many seasons of pitting normal cherries, she groaned, to want to bother with something even smaller. And "a neighbor's experience with poison oak, ivy and sumac has made me suspicious of strange woodsy places."

☆ ☆ ☆

Being twice absent-minded paid off richly, or perhaps we should say, dryly, for one Kearneyite. Looking out his office window at a downpour of rain, he was regretting that he had forgotten to bring his raincoat to work. Then he checked the cloakroom and found he had forgotten to take it home.

☆ ☆ ☆

Sunshine after rain may bring smiles and a lifting of dreary day spirits, but it also sends the meticulous housewife into an absolute frenzy. Helen Marr of the Walthill Citizen discovered, with sunlight filtering through her windows, a startling accumulation of dust on the windowpanes.

☆ ☆ ☆

Speaking of one's state of mind and such . . .

The Oxford Standard puzzled a bit over something that is supposed to be basic, and declares in favor of a slight alteration, or at least compromise . . .

"We keep reading that it is better to be poor and happy than to be rich and be unhappy. But we're wondering if something can't be worked out so a fellow can be moderately rich and just moody."

People aren't the only ones given to temperament, as a result of weather or wealth . . .

Mrs. Roy Ahrndt, who writes for the Scribner Rustler, says hay has been rather a lost cause up around there this year. Hay that her husband did get raked off the field between showers wasn't much good. He turned it several times, then pushed it into piles and moved it to the pasture "where the cattle just smelled it and walked back and ate grass."

The Bertrand Herald dubs it "Apple Exchange Week" there. Sudden cooler weather sent growers to gathering the fruit and putting it into basements, fruit jars or deep-freezes. In most instances, individuals having an oversupply, there has been much cross-swapping, Delicious for Jonathans, etc.

The Herald then offered a few fruity statistics that were interesting. American homemakers buy apples at least once a week. Applesauce is used by 85% of the women. Four out of five use them for cooking, all use them raw. In Nebraska, there are 10 major orchards and about 17 varieties of apples grown in the state.

No Pleasing

Western, Neb.

It seems that no matter what is done, you can't please everybody. Most people thought the pages on the Ten Commandments to be a refreshing change from the images of whiskey, beer and new car ads that usually are found there.

As to Anglo-Saxon whites being used, well, if Negroes had been pictured a flood of letters would have declared that the impression had been made that Negroes were flagrant violators of the Ten Commandments.

Consider also that any picture in a newspaper, magazine, book, illustrated Bible or Sunday school pamphlet qualifies as a graven image and more so the statues of Christ and the Mother Mary, paintings of Christ by Da Vinci and others, stained picture windows in churches, money and china statuettes of people and animals.

And as for criticism of ministers sponsoring these pages—is this another manifestation of the current trend to ban religion in the church on Sunday, and not ever to let it enter our daily lives?

The Subsidies

Hastings, Neb.

According to news reports, some railway executives had urged the 89th Congress to provide government subsidies for railroads. And now Congress will use $90 million of government funds to build a modern railroad that will have a road bed that railway executives never thought of building. The trains on that road will run at 150 miles per hour for a distance of 226 miles, from Washington, D.C. to New York City. And the government will lease the railroad to the Pennsylvania Railroad. Such an arrangement should give the United States Chamber of Commerce an opportunity to object to government interference with private ownership of railroads.

The Union Pacific Railroad and the Burlington system should not be satisfied to operate their trains from Chicago to Pacific Coast cities at a snail's pace, as compared to the much faster trains on the East Coast. Therefore, the executives of those lines should demand that the 89th Congress appropriate a few hundred millions of federal funds to bring these Midwest railroads up to a par with the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Of course, the hicks who live in the sticks west of Chicago could not stand to travel at 150 miles an hour on a railroad. And the congressional delegations from the Midwest know that their constituents could not stand to ride a train traveling that fast.

Warning Note

Lincoln, Neb.

Cuba was lost to the free world after the warning voices failed to persuade. Have we learned something or not?

In these days, we hear about two other countries, South Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. The cry of "Yankee, go home!" is accentuated by the sound of bomb explosions. What does it mean? Shall it be a retreat after good initial efforts for saving liberty?

The voice of warning sounded by the expelled Dominican patriot should be heard. We do not need another Cuba in our vicinity.

Pities The KKK

Bennet, Neb.

No doubt many of those who viewed the TV program about the escapades of the KKK organization a few weeks ago had an eye-opener.

Of course, we know that such nitwit organizations eventually blow over, but they naturally do some harm while they have their fling. They still can't fool all of the people all of the time.

An old Swedish proverb ends, "Hate less, love more," but the Klan, like the communists, have it backwards. It's very true what the ex-Klansman said on the program — that most of them want to be big wheels and it's the only chance they ever have. No doubt they had poor bringing up and communicated only with those who were of the same type.

Since there is no punishment nor reward comparable to that of the conscience, perhaps they should be more pitied than censured.

Data On Penal Guard Hiring Asked

Gov Frank Morrison reported Thursday he has asked for a report on guard selection policies for the state penal farm at Mead.

"There's obviously been a violation of public trust by two guards at the penal farm," the governor said. "I want to know how the guards are hired."

The governor said Penitentiary Warden Maurice Sigler hires the penal farm guards.

A State Safety Patrol report indicated "lack of supervision" resulted in many improper activities at the penal compound. Inmates told a Safety Patrol investigator tales of drinking parties, repeated thefts, unauthorized trips and sex play.

Complete Probe

On Wednesday, Morrison said he has ordered a "complete investigation" of all charges and allegations made by inmates at the trusty-type facility.

Morrison said the performance of two guards—both discharged, one convicted of petit larceny and the other sought on the same charge—points up the need for a reevaluation of salary levels of penal employes.

"The guards get ridiculously low salaries," Morrison said. "Maybe this will make people realize that sometimes low salaries are poor economy."

Morrison pledged he will make public all reports and actions made in connection with the penal farm, but only after he is sure release of information "would not interfere with administration of justice."

Personnel Changes

Institutions Director George L. Morris, who has direct administrative control of the Mead facility, said there will be some further personnel changes to insure proper operation of the compound in the future.

The Safety Patrol report, compiled by Trooper D. E. Mayhew, said conditions got so bad at the compound that "inmates involved actually controlled activities while certain guards were on duty."

The conditions came to light after a theft of food from the penal farm kitchen was discovered on the night of Sept. 15.

As a result of the theft, two guards—John Flagle, 53, of Yutan, and Robert Chester, 34, of Wahoo, and three inmates were charged with petit larceny. Chester is still at large.

RHODESIAN NEGOTIATIONS DEADLOCK

London (AP)—Prime Ministers Harold Wilson and Ian Smith failed Thursday to break the deadlock in British-Rhodesian negotiations over the white-ruled African colony's renewed threats to seize independence.

The two men agreed merely to talk again Friday after a two-hour conference in the cabinet room of No. 10 Downing St., had produced nc progress.

"If tomorrow's meeting is fruitless too," a British cabinet minister said, "we shall have to decide whether there is any point in going on."

The British want to move Rhodesia toward independence under conditions which would eventually give power to the 3.9 million Negroes who make up most of its people

The U.S. charge d'affaires in London, Philip M. Kaiser, delivered to Smith a warning from the U.S. government that any breakaway will not be recognized by Washington.

West Germany's Ambassador to Britain, Herbert Blankenhorn, acted in similar fashion.

The Americans and West Germans, like other allied and Commonwealth countries, were reinforcing the British warnings to Smith that any grab at independence would be treated as an act of rebellion.

If the Rhodesian leader was impressed by this display of opposition he gave no sign of it when he faced Wilson.

On emerging, he was in a defiant mood.

The word from British insiders was that Smith, 49, a wartime Royal Air Force pilot, stood pat on his demands for the immediate and unconditional independence of his land-locked country.

The exchanges between Wilson and Smith, flanked by their ministers and advisers, were said to have been in low key, without table thumping.

The five points:

—There must be an immediate improvement in the political representation of the Africans in Rhodesia.

—There must be guarantees against introduction of any "regressive legislation."

—Rhodesia must launch a crash program of education and training to raise the standards of Africans and prepare them for voting and governing responsibilities.

—The Rhodesian government must accept the principle of African majority rule within the foreseeable future and the final settlement must be acceptable to the people of Rhodesia as a whole.

Valley Winds Elementary School in St. Louis County, Mo., Thursday was named the "1965 School of the Year" by a special committee representing the National Council on Schoolhouse Construction winding up its 42nd annual meeting here.

Aaron Cohodes of Chicago, Ill., editor of the "The Nation's Schools," presented commemorating plaques to Dr. Bruce Boggs, acting superintendent, and Mrs. Mary Crafton, board member, both representing the school district of River View Gardens, St. Louis.

Architect John A. Shaver of Salina, Kan.. also received a plaque.

The Valley Winds School, K-6 with 660 capacity, was cited by Cohodes for "excellence of architectural design, functional planning, satisfactory environment, economy of construction and operation and the proper provision for the educational needs of the community."

The unique structure has been tagged the "snail school" for its three-spiral design. There are no corridors, Cohodes pointed out, and rooms are wedge-shaped teaching suites with movable dividers.

NCSC president Francis C. Darby explained that the "School of the Year" designation does not determine the best school in the country but is "representative of all good schools. It is very hard to compare schools with different functions and locations," he emphasized.

The school construction council members Thursday morning heard reports on significant research in school planning and building and later discussed the vocational and technical curriculum needs for high school and junior college and the subsequent building implications.

Donald D. Dauwalder, consultant to industry and education in Pittsburgh, Pa., told the conference that facilities for technical and college preparatory education must be inter-related since many courses will coincide, but must also be adaptable to one or the other.

Wallace A. Strevell, of Houston, Tex., NCSC research committee chairman, announced the formation of the NCSC Abstract Service in which his committee and school plant specialists will obtain, as a continuing service, documents describing significant research in school planning and development.

These materials will be abstracted and indexed through an office at the University of Houston, Strevell said, and then forwarded to the U.S. Office of Education where they will be photocopied and stored in an information storage system in the Educational Research Information Center for future reference.

RHODESIAN NEGOTIATIONS DEADLOCK

London (AP)—Prime Ministers Harold Wilson and Ian Smith failed Thursday to break the deadlock in British-Rhodesian negotiations over the white-ruled African colony's renewed threats to seize independence.

The two men agreed merely to talk again Friday after a two-hour conference in the cabinet room of No. 10 Downing St., had produced no progress.

"If tomorrow's meeting is fruitless too," a British cabinet minister said, "we shall have to decide whether there is any point in going on."

The British want to move Rhodesia toward independence under conditions which would eventually give power to the 3.9 million Negroes who make up most of its people.

Before the confrontation began Thursday, President Johnson's administration intervened with the aim of heading Smith off his threatened course of proclaiming Rhodesia's independence without British consent.

The U.S. charge d'affaires in London, Philip M. Kaiser, delivered to Smith a warning from the U.S. government that any breakaway will not be recognized by Washington.

West Germany's Ambassador to Britain, Herbert Blankenhorn, acted in similar fashion.

The Americans and West Germans, like other allied and Commonwealth countries, were reinforcing the British warnings to Smith that any grab at independence would be treated as an act of rebellion.

If the Rhodesian leader was impressed by this display of opposition he gave no sign of it when he faced Wilson.

On emerging, he was in a defiant mood.

The word from British insiders was that Smith, 49, a wartime Royal Air Force pilot, stood pat on his demands for the immediate and unconditional independence of his land-locked country.

The exchanges between Wilson and Smith, flanked by their ministers and advisers, were said to have been in low key, without table thumping.

Lawyers Split On Remap Law

Attorneys disagreed over the constitutionality of a 1963 law changing annexation procedures for first class cities in arguments before State Supreme Court judges Thursday.

An attorney for trustees of the estate of the late A. H. Read contended that a Scottsbluff city ordinance annexing part of the Read property should be declared void because it was based on the 1963 law.

"Cities doubtless are entitled to expand, but they cannot expand at the expense of the constitutional safeguards guaranteed individuals," said attorney Francis L. Winner of Scottsbluff. "The 1963 annexation law did not provide for notice and hearing and is unconstitutional."

Scottsbluff City Atty. Loren G. Olsson said the annexation law, sponsored by Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter and passed as LB338, is not invalid simply because it makes no provision for notice and hearing on adoption of annexation ordinances.

"The annexation statutes applicable to cities of the metropolitan and primary classes make no provision for notice at any time," Olsson said, "and statutes applicable to villages and cities of the second class make no provision for either notice or hearing.

"These statues have been in effect for many years and extensive annexation has taken place under the statutes, particularly in Lincoln and Omaha."

Herbert W. Read, Winifred M. Read, James F. Read and Robert A. Read challenged the constitutionality of the 1963 law in court after the Scottsbluff city council passed an ordinance annexing Read property in August of 1963. The Reads appealed to the supreme court after Scotts Bluff District Court Judge Ted R. Feidler upheld the law's constitutionality.

The Supreme Court earlier this year was confronted with a similar challenge of the 1963 law in a Kearney annexation case, but the court declined to rule on the law's constitutionality.

The court said that since landowners fighting a Kearney annexation ordince sought a remedy under the 1963 law, they could not question its constitutionality.

Okinawa Bound

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fitzwater have been their son-in-law and daughter, Tech. Sgt. and Mrs. Raymond Pickles of Spokane, Wash. Sgt. and Mrs. Pickles left this week for West Virginia, where they will spend two weeks before returning to Nebraska.

Mrs. Pickles then plans to spend one month with her parents while her husband travels to Okinawa, where they will be living. Before the assignment in Spokane, Sgt. and Mrs. Pickles were stationed in England for three years.

THE TALK around the town

If we said you'll never guess who is coming to town' you would know that it was just an apetite whetter-upper for news. But SUCH news!

Supposing we mentioned names—such as 'Biff' Jones, Roy (Link) Lyman, Ed Schwartzkopf, Paul Amen, Ray Prochaska, Forrest Behm, Fred Metheny, the Kahler brothers—To the younger generation the names won't mean a thing—but to those Cornhusker fans away back in 1941 when Nebraska played in the Rose Bowl, those names mean the Rose Bowl team

And there's the story. Nebraska's 1941 Rose Bowl team will hold a reunion in Lincoln during the weekend of the Homecoming game, and we hear that almost all of the former Varsity greats will be accompanied by their wives.

The reunion blueprint calls for a dinner on Friday evening at Hotel Cornhusker when 'Biff' Jones, who coached the Rose Bowl team and who now resides in Washington. D.C., Coach Robert Devaney, and John Bentley will share the spotlight. Preceding the game the Rose Bowl team and their wives will be the luncheon guests of the University of Nebraska Alumni Association at Hotel Cornhusker. The finale will be on Saturday evening with dining and dancing at the Lincoln Country Club

On the VIP reunion list, in addition to 'Biff' Jones and 'Link' Lyman, of San Gabriel, Calif., will be John Selleck, Dr. E. N. Deppen—the team's physician; Floyd Bottorf who was in charge of all equipment; Walt Renter, the grounds keeper. and Alvin Dees of Hanover, Kan., who was the trainer.

The members of the Rose Bowl team who plan to attend the reunion include Warren Alfson of Wisner; Marvin Athey of Imperial; Bill Bryant of Norwalk, Calif; Jack Hazen of Springfield, Ill; Clarence Herndon. San Gabriel, Calif; Dr. Robert Kahler. a member of the Northern Illinois University faculty, DeKalb, Ill; his brother, Royal Kahler, Amarillo, Tex; Howard Kelly, Grand Island; Francis Leik, Minneapolis. Minn; Fred Meier, Santa Ana, Calif; Fred Metheny, Arcadia, Calif; Herm Rohrig of Omaha; Don Rubottom who is in the service and stationed in Alaska; Kenneth Simmons of Valentine; Marvin Thompson of Houston, Tex; Dr. Jack Vincent of Canon City, Colo; Dr. Robert Ludwick, Sterling, Colo; Gerald Kathol of Wichita, Kan; Dale Bradley of Denver; Ed Schwartzkopf, George Abel, Wayne Blue, George (Bus) Knight, all of Lincoln.

There is a possibility that Ray Prochaska might be here, but there is a king-sized doubt since he is in professional football. There is a question mark after the name of Al Zikmund, also. Mr. Zikmund coaches at Kearney State College—and its a game weekend.

On the 'won't be here' list are Forrest Behm who, by the way, is a vice-president in charge of foreign operations for the Corning Glass Co; Willard Bunker, a geologist with Pan-American Oil; Robert Burress, Theos Thompson—he is based at M.I.T., but as a consultant on nuclear research; he travels everywhere; Bob Cooper, who was on the scouting team; Leonard Muskin, Fred Preston of Fairbury; Vic Schleich, Paul Amen who is associated with the Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., in Charlotte. N.C.

Not forgotten will be five members of the team, including Butch Luther, Ed Meyer, Burdette Workman, all killed during World War II; Harry Hopp, who had a fatal heart attack two or three years ago, and Vike Francis.

* * *

We just have time to tell you that the 100 Club will be entertaining at the Hotel Lincoln Saturday. The party will have a 'Stop the World, I Want to Get On' theme, and we hear that there will be a slight hint of far away places.

Anyway, there are to be guests—and from faraway places—The guest list includes Mr. and Mrs. Paul London of Sacramento, Calif., formerly of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Phil Johnson of Dorian, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fagan of Delavan, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Clark, all of Manhattan, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. James Ganz of Gibbon; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swett of Huron, S.D., Miss Sarah Davie and Rex Swett, both of Lincoln.

Workshop Planned

The University of Nebraska Panhellenic Workshop will be on Sunday, Oct. 10, and continue through Wednesday, Oct. 13. The theme for this year's workshop is entitled "Service to Country, Community, Campus."

The week will begin on Sunday when Panhellenic goes to church. Each sorority woman is encouraged to attend the church of her choice. On Monday, Oct 11, at 5:45 o'clock there will be a dinner in the Student Union for Panhellenic presidents and delegates. At 7 o'clock on Monday evening, "Panhellenic Night" will be held in the Student Union Ball Room with Mrs. Graeme Reide, Grand President of Gamma Phi Beta as guest speaker. Scholarship awards will be presented at this time. Tuesday evening, Oct. 12, two girls from each sorority house will be guests at another house for exchange dinners.

The workshop will be concluded with a Panhellenic Training School on Wednesday, Oct. 13.

ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for only three months and already I have a problem. My wife thinks it's her "duty" to stay nights with her mother every time her father goes on an overnight business trip, which is about twice a week. Mother Bea is a registered nurse, so my wife picks her up at the hospital at 11 p.m. when she gets off duty, and the two of them drive cross-town to spend the night together at Mother Bea's. Meanwhile, I sleep alone. So where does that leave me?

NORMAN

DEAR NORMAN: Sleeping alone (which is hardly fair to a man who is still technically on his honeymoon). Tell your bride to persuade her mother either to get a large watch dog for protection, or to find a woman companion who has no marital responsibilities. As a last resort, you could invite Mother Bea to sleep at your place, which is just a notch better then sleeping alone.

Okinawa Bound

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fitzwater have been their son-in-law and daughter, Tech. Sgt. and Mrs. Raymond Pickles of Spokane, Wash. Sgt. and Mrs. Pickles left this week for West Virginia, where they will spend two weeks before returning to Nebraska.

Mrs. Pickles then plans to spend one month with her parents while her husband travels to Okinawa, where they will be living. Before the assignment in Spokane, Sgt. and Mrs. Pickles were stationed in England for three years.

THE TALK around the town

If we said 'you'll never guess who is coming to town' you would know that it was just an apetite whetter-upper for news. But SUCH news!

Supposing we mentioned names—such as 'Biff' Jones, Roy (Link) Lyman, Ed Schwartzkopf, Paul Amen, Ray Prochaska, Forrest Behm, Fred Metheny, the Kahler brothers—To the younger generation the names won't mean a thing—but to those Cornhusker fans away back in 1941 when Nebraska played in the Rose Bowl, those names mean the Rose Bowl team.

And there's the story. Nebraska's 1941 Rose Bowl team will hold a reunion in Lincoln during the weekend of the Homecoming game, and we hear that almost all of the former Varsity greats will be accompanied by their wives.

The reunion blueprint calls for a dinner on Friday evening at Hotel Cornhusker when 'Biff' Jones, who coached the Rose Bowl team and who now resides in Washington, D.C., Coach Robert Devaney, and John Bentley will share the spotlight. Preceding the game the Rose Bowl team and their wives will be the luncheon guests of the University of Nebraska Alumni Association at Hotel Cornhusker. The finale will be on Saturday evening with dining and dancing at the Lincoln Country Club.

On the VIP reunion list, in addition to 'Biff' Jones and 'Link' Lyman, of San Gabriel, Calif., will be John Selleck, Dr. E. N. Deppen—the team's physician; Floyd Bottorf who was in charge of all equipment; Walt Renter, the grounds keeper. and Alvin Dees of Hanover, Kan., who was the trainer.

The members of the Rose Bowl team who plan to attend the reunion include Warren Alfson of Wisner; Marvin Athey of Imperial; Bill Bryant of Norwalk, Calif; Jack Hazen of Springfield, Ill; Clarence Herndon, San Gabriel, Calif; Dr. Robert Kahler, a member of the Northern Illinois University faculty, DeKalb, Ill; his brother, Royal Kahler, Amarillo, Tex; Howard Kelly, Grand Island; Francis Leik, Minneapolis, Minn; Fred Meier, Santa Ana, Calif; Fred Metheny, Arcadia, Calif; Herm Rohrig of Omaha; Don Rubottom who is in the service and stationed in Alaska; Kenneth Simmons of Valentine; Marvin Thompson of Houston, Tex; Dr. Jack Vincent of Canon City, Colo; Dr. Robert Ludwick, Sterling, Colo; Gerald Kathol of Wichita, Kan; Dale Bradley of Denver; Ed Schwartzkopf, George Abel, Wayne Blue, George (Bus) Knight, all of Lincoln.

There is a possibility that Ray Prochaska might be here, but there is a king-sized doubt since he is in professional football. There is a question mark after the name of Al Zikmund, also. Mr. Zikmund coaches at Kearney State College—and its a game weekend.

On the 'won't be here' list are Forrest Behm who, by the way, is a vice-president in charge of foreign operations for the Corning Glass Co; Willard Bunker, a geologist with Pan-American Oil; Robert Burress, Theos Thompson—he is based at M.I.T., but as a consultant on nuclear research; he travels everywhere; Bob Cooper, who was on the scouting team; Leonard Muskin, Fred Preston of Fairbury; Vic Schleich, Paul Amen who is associated with the Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., in Charlotte, N.C.

Not forgotten will be five members of the team, including Butch Luther, Ed Meyer, Burdette Workman, all killed during World War II; Harry Hopp, who had a fatal heart attack two or three years ago, and Vike Francis.

* * *

We just have time to tell you that the 100 Club will be entertaining at the Hotel Lincoln Saturday. The party will have a 'Stop the World, I Want to Get On' theme, and we hear that there will be a slight hint of far away places.

Anyway, there are to be guests—and from faraway places—The guest list includes Mr. and Mrs. Paul London of Sacramento, Calif., formerly of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Phil Johnson of Dorian, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fagan of Delavan, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Clark, all of Manhattan, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. James Ganz of Gibbon; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swett of Huron, S.D., Miss Sarah Davie and Rex Swett, both of Lincoln.

Workshop Planned

The University of Nebraska Panhellenic Workshop will be on Sunday, Oct. 10, and continue through Wednesday, Oct. 13. The theme for this year's workshop is entitled "Service to Country, Community, Campus."

The week will begin on Sunday when Panhellenic goes to church. Each sorority woman is encouraged to attend the church of her choice. On Monday, Oct. 11, at 5:45 o'clock there will be a dinner in the Student Union for Panhellenic presidents and delegates. At 7 o'clock on Monday evening, "Panhellenic Night" will be held in the Student Union Ball Room with Mrs. Graeme Reide, Grand President of Gamma Phi Beta as guest speaker. Scholarship awards will be presented at this time. Tuesday evening, Oct. 12, two girls from each sorority house will be guests at another house for exchange dinners.

The workshop will be concluded with a Panhellenic Training School on Wednesday, Oct. 13.

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for only three months and already I have a problem. My wife thinks it's her "duty" to stay nights with her mother very time her father goes on an overnight business trip, which is about twice a week. Mother Bea is a registered nurse, so my wife picks her up at the hospital at 11 p.m. when she gets off duty, and the two of them drive cross-town to spend the night together at Mother Bea's. Meanwhile, I sleep alone. So where does that leave me?

NEWS of the suburban areas

The Lincoln area is in for a beautiful Indian summer this fall. The first weeks of rain and cold have dissolved into a warm breeze and sunshine.

And since this description brings to mind the word "happy," now is a good time to mention some happy birthdays and happy visitors around suburbia.

EASTBOROUGH

The population of Miltonvale, Kan. was nine people larger last Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Degenhardt and their children, Danny, Joan, Alice, David, Carol, Richard and Mary Patricia traveled to Miltonvale to visit with Mrs. Degenhardt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Richard, and relatives.

Wednesday was the day for a birthday coffee in this suburban area. Honored was Mrs. Henry W. Hoffman. Guests Mrs. Earl Locks, Mrs. Roger Larson, Mrs. Lorene Larson, Mrs. P. E. Thompson and Mrs. Ray Degenhardt assembled at Mrs. Hoffman's home for the celebration.

A family dinner Thursday night helped Herbert Schamp celebrate his birthday. Present for the celebration were Mrs. Schamp, sons David and Michael; Miss Gaylea Munson, Michael's fiancee; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stopek and their children, Mary Ann and Sarah. After dinner many of the Schamp's friends stopped in for ice cream and cake.

PARK VALLEY HEIGHTS

Visitors, visitors, visitors. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Fiala really had a house full of them last weekend. Coming in from Des Moines, Iowa, and on their way to a new home in Sun City, Ariz., were Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Bridgeman, Mr. Fiala's brother-in-law and sister. The Bridgeman's left Monday.

Arriving on Sunday were Mr. Fiala's mother, Mrs. Rosie Fiala, and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Flowers of David City and Columbus, resectively. That evening a family dinner was held and the group was joined by Lincoln relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Fiala.

Things are back to normal now at the Fiala household. The last goodbyes were said yesterday as both visitors and host and hostess settled back to daily life.

SOUTH BROOK SUMMIT

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Vosta entertained their daughter, Mrs. Bill Bice, at a birthday dinner at the VFW last evening. Present at the celebration were Mr. Bice, their children, Karen and Stevie; and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bice.

SKYLINE TERRACE

A Skyline Terrace family traveled to Emmettsburg, Iowa last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kane and their children, Diane and Richard, visited with Mr. Kane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kane.

PARTY
opened season for dancing club

The members of the Terpsichorean Dancing club may have encountered a few black cats and witches at their first party of the season, but they didn't mind. The fun opened the season on an extremely festive note.

The dinner dance, held at Hotel Lincoln, had a Hallowe'en motif, and the party planners included the members of the board of directors. with Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wendelin serving as the party committee chairmen.

BIDDING QUIZ

You are the dealer, both sides vulnerable. What would you bid with each of the following hands?

1. ♠AKQ10 ♥KJ7 ♦AQJ ♣AQ4
2. ♠J ♥97543 ♦AKQ10 ♣AJ2
3. ♠AK83 ♥AKQ2 ♦5 ♣9853
4. ♠— ♥AKJ53 ♦AJ8642 ♣Q6
5. ♠Q952 ♥AJ ♦J863 ♣AQ8

1. Three notrump. This bid indicates a balanced hand with 25 to 27 high-card points and strength or stoppers in all suits—which is exactly what you have.

It would be wrong to open with two spades. While this bid would represent great strength and be forcing to game, it would not reflect the balanced distribution and extraordinary high-card values. Most forcing two-bids have attractive distributional values but only about 20 points in high cards. They are based more on trick-taking potential than high-card values.

A two spade opening might also result in the weak hand becoming declarer at notrump instead of the strong hand.

2. One heart. This is the proper bid, even though the suit is headed by only the nine-spot. It must be remembered that if partner has any three hearts the suit is playable as trumps, and that unless the hearts are bid now, the proper trump suit may never be found.

3. One spade. The opening bid with hands patterned 4-4-4-1 is usually made in the suit beneath the singleton, but here the clubs are ignored because they are virtually nonexistent. It is best to plan to bid the two suits you really have, and naturally, you bid the higher-ranking one first.

4. One diamond. The main effort here is devoted to identifying the 6-5 distribution. The best way of doing this is by opening with a diamond and bidding hearts next.

Partner will no doubt assume that we have four hearts and five diamonds, but this impression can be corrected on the next round when we rebid the hearts (assuming that partner has not raised them). Partner will then know that we have five hearts and, since we opened the bidding with a diamond, that we have longer diamonds, probably six of them.

5. One club. It is not desirable to open with a three-card suit, but when there is a choice of evils and bidding the three-card suit is the least evil, you just bid it. You can't pass with 14 points, or open with a no-trump, and you shouldn't bid a spade or a diamond with these weak suits, so you choose a club as the bid least likely to do your side harm.

Dessert Luncheon

The officers of the Delta Gamma Mothers Club will be hostesses at a 1:30 o'clock dessert luncheon today at the chapter house. The mothers of pledges will be honored, and will be made acquainted with the collegiate chapter's pledge program.

Conservative Ottaviani Applauded For Urging War Ban

Vatican City (UPI)—The Ecumenical Council Thursday gave a rousing ovation to Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani for urging a "total ban on war and all forms of violence."

"Why cannot man reach the point where there will be only one world republic, one common fatherland for all men, a Christian republic where the peace of Christ would reign in the Kingdom of Christ," Cardinal Ottaviani asked the 2,200 bishops in St. Peter's Basilica.

Liberal prelates have often cast the nearly blind son of a Roman baker as a "villian" for his leadership of conservatism during the council's four years.

Unaccustomed

The applause for Cardinal Ottaviani was the "longest and loudest the council has indulged in — something which the holy office head is not accustomed to hearing," council briefing officer said.

Cardinal Ottaviani told the council that he heartily agreed with those who desire a more absolute condemnation of nuclear warfare."

He then cited the United States of America, the concept of a united Europe and the United States of Brazil as successful examples of confederation.

He called confederation on a world scale the real way to solve the armaments question and reach world peace.

War On War

Joseph Marie Cardinal Martin, archbishop of Rouen, Franch, backing Cardinal Ottaviani, said, "We must wage war on war."

British Archbishop George Andre Beck of Liverpool argued that "the possession of these armaments exclusively as a deterrent for an enemy equipped with the same weapons cannot be said to be in itself immoral."

Bishop Michael Klepacz of Lodz, Poland, denounced man's "marathon race toward the precipice of ruin" but followed Archbishop Beck's line by warning, "Peace, yes, but not at any price."

Frontier Plans Columbus Route Starting Oct. 31

State Aeronautics Director James Sandstedt said Thursday that Frontier Airlines will inaugurate service Oct. 31 to Columbus.

Four flights daily will link the city by air with Lincoln, Omaha and other Nebraska cities and Denver, Colo., he said.

The service has been directed by the Civil Aeronautics Board after a long battle by Columbus to obtain airline service.

Sandstedt said DC3 service will be initially used but Frontier plans to convert to turbo-prop flights before the year's end.

Valentine Bank Depositors To Be Paid In Full

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Frank Morrison announced Thursday that all depositors in the embezzled Nebraska State Bank of Valentine will be paid in full.

The bank was closed last Oct. 29 by the State Banking Department after embezzlements totalling $3 million were discovered.

Richard L. Davenport, the bank's president, is now serving a State Penitentiary term for what was termed the "largest and most ingenious manipulation in the state's banking history."

Morrison publicly commended State Banking Director Henry Ley and Bernard Smith of Lexington, special attorney for the Banking Department, "for a most remarkable job in protecting Nebraska depositors."

"No depositor will lose a dime," Morrison said. "Also an estimated $1.7 million in spurious notes used by Davenport in the manipulation will be discarded."

Deposit Liability

Deposit liability of the bank at its closing was $6,418,020. Of this, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) has paid depositors a total of $4,150,644 as representing insured deposits up to $10,000.

Ley said an arrangement has been worked out with four city banks to provide a cash reserve for the bank receiver to pay all remaining undisputed deposit claims in full.

Under the plan, the FDIC will receive its pro rata share of the closed bank's assets plus its preferred claim of $60,767.

Ley said formal application for approval of the plan and agreement will be filed today in Cherry County District Court with hearing slated Oct. 29.

Ley said the city banks will make up an estimated $1.3 million to pay all depositors in full.

Eliminates Litigations

Smith said the plan will eliminate an estimated five to ten years of litigation and liquidation action that might otherwise have occurred.

Morrison praised the four banks for their cooperation in the plan. They were identified as First National Bank of Lincoln, U.S. National Bank of Omaha, Commerce Trust of Kansas City and Security National Bank of Sioux City, Ia.

Major bank assets in the final liquidation are the $1.2 million paid on Davenport's fidelity bond and $750,000 in capital stock and reserves.

Ley estimated that final payments to depositors will be made in early November.

CARMICHAEL

POSTCARD by Stan Kallenberg

Purdue was whopping Notre Dame the other day. And I thought, "I know I've heard something about that college." I went into the clips. And sure enough.

What a memory! A steel trap.

"Co-eds at Purdue University had orders to limit goodnight kisses on dates to one. Keep it as short as possible and display little or no emotion."

The dean of women put out that classic order. And so far as we know, the co-eds obeyed.

I imagine it is still in force—I never saw that it was rescinded.

This may account for the amazing Purdue victory. With 19 of 22 passes completed. Notre Dame with no co-eds (but no restrictions either on local talent) may have been kissed out.

The Purdue men, limited to one kiss and that without emotion, were in more of a fighting mood than the Fighting Irish.

It's a theory.

"A kiss is just a kiss," as the piano player sang to Humphrey Bogart in "Casablanca." ("Play it, Tham. You played it for her.")

You can also get mononucleosis by kissing. (But don't let that stop you, girls. Take a chance.)

A week later you are shaking like a crap player coming out. Your temperature is way up there. And your spirits are way down yonder.

"Mononucleosis," says the doctor.

It was an interesting order put to the co-eds at Purdue. No word came out on how it was implemented. That should have been reported in depth.

"Keep it as short as possible."

How short is possible? That's an interesting question. You get started on a kiss and—but why trip down memory lane.

"Display little or no emotion."

That is difficult during a kissing session. Dolls are very emotional creatures. And to order her to show "little or no emotion," while her date is going over her like an ear of corn, demands control like a wire splice.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Thanks for the lovely evening and the wonderful dinner."

This is an emotional situation. She may be catching mononucleosis. Or giving mononucleosis. You cannot handle respiratory ailments without emotion. No more than you can face a loaded pistol without feeling something.

Game statistics speak for themselves. Notre Dame was picked to win by 4½ points. They lost 25-21.

How they manage this at Purdue staggers the imagination—my imagination has been having blind staggers most of the time lately.

Anyway, it's an emotional thought while watching football this fall. Think about it. It adds a new dimension to the option play.

Valentine Bank Depositors To Be Paid In Full

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Frank Morrison announced Thursday that all depositors in the embezzled Nebraska State Bank of Valentine will be paid in full.

The bank was closed last Oct. 29 by the State Banking Department after embezzlements totalling $3 million were discovered.

Richard L. Davenport, the bank's president, is now serving a State Penitentiary term for what was termed the "largest and most ingenious manipulation in the state's banking history."

Morrison publicly commended State Banking Director Henry Ley and Bernard Smith of Lexington, special attorney for the Banking Department, "for a most remarkable job in protecting Nebraska depositors."

"No depositor will lose a dime," Morrison said. "Also an estimated $1.7 million in spurious notes used by Davenport in the manipulation will be discarded."

Deposit Liability

Deposit liability of the bank at its closing was $6,418,020. Of this, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) has paid depositors a total of $4,150,644 as representing insured deposits up to $10,000.

Ley said an arrangement has been worked out with four city banks to provide a cash reserve for the bank receiver to pay all remaining undisputed deposit claims in full.

Under the plan, the FDIC will receive its pro rata share of the closed bank's assets plus its preferred claim of $60,767.

Ley said formal application for approval of the plan and agreement will be filed Tuesday in Cherry County District Court with hearing anticipated Oct. 29.

Ley said the city banks will make up an estimated $1.3 million to pay all depositors in full.

Eliminates Litigations

Smith said the plan will eliminate an estimated five to ten years of litigation and liquidation action that might otherwise have occurred.

Morrison praised the four banks for their cooperation in the plan. They were identified as First National Bank of Lincoln, U.S. National Bank of Omaha, Commerce Trust of Kansas City and Security National Bank of Sioux City, Ia.

Major bank assets in the final liquidation are the $1.2 million paid on Davenport's fidelity bond and $750,000 in capital stock and reserves.

Ley estimated that final payments to depositors will be made in early November.

CARMICHAEL

POSTCARD by Stan Lapelle

Purdue was whopping Notre Dame the other day. And I thought, "I know I've heard something about that college." I went into the clips. And sure enough.

What a memory! A steel trap.

"Co-eds at Purdue University had orders to limit goodnight kisses on dates to one. Keep it as short as possible and display little or no emotion."

The dean of women put out that classic order. And so far as we know, the co-eds obeyed.

I imagine it is still in force—I never saw that it was rescinded.

This may account for the amazing Purdue victory. With 19 of 22 passes completed. Notre Dame with no co-eds (but no restrictions either on local talent) may have been kissed out.

The Purdue men, limited to one kiss and that without emotion, were in more of a fighting mood than the Fighting Irish.

It's a theory.

"A kiss is just a kiss," as the piano player sang to Humphrey Bogart in "Casablanca." ("Play it, Tham. You played it for her.")

You can also get mononucleosis by kissing. (But don't let that stop you, girls. Take a chance.)

A week later you are shaking like a crap player coming out. Your temperature is way up there. And your spirits are way down yonder.

"Mononucleosis," says the doctor.

The lady gave you a dividend with the kiss.

It was an interesting order put to the co-eds at Purdue. No word came out on how it was implemented. That should have been reported in depth.

"Keep it as short as possible."

How short is possible? That's an interesting question. You get started on a kiss and—but why trip down memory lane.

"Display little or no emotion."

That is difficult during a kissing session. Dolls are very emotional creatures. And to order her to show "little or no emotion," while her date is going over her like an ear of corn, demands control like a wire splice.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Thanks for the lovely evening and the wonderful dinner."

This is an emotional situation. She may be catching mononucleosis . Or giving mononucleosis. You cannot handle respiratory ailments without emotion. No more than you can face a loaded pistol without feeling something.

Game statistics speak for themselves. Notre Dame was picked to win by 4½ points. They lost 25-21.

How they manage this at Purdue staggers the imagination—my imagination has been having blind staggers most of the time lately.

Alternative Sought To Using Senate

. . . CAPITOL SPACE HUNTED

State Administrative Services Director Willard Townsend said Thursday he is "still searching" for additional office space in the Capitol as an alternative to using the East Senate Chamber as a drafting room.

"There are a couple of possibilities being studied," Townsend said.

He said use of the Senate Chamber is still in the picture, but only as a "last resort" move.

Permission of the Legislative Council's executive committee has been secured for use of the East Senate Chamber until Jan. 1, 1967, provided the room and its furnishings are restored after use.

Some of the Interstate design division space is being lost because of space requirement for the new data processing equipment authorized by the 1965 Legislature and requiring an estimated 2,000 square feet of space.

Townsend said the division needs every foot of space it now has and even more.

He said the division can't be moved from the Capitol without jeopardizing the Interstate program.

15 Selected For State's Art Council

Fifteen Nebraskans have been appointed to the Nebraska Arts Council, Gov. Frank Morrison's office announced Thursday.

The council was authorized by the 1965 Legislature to promote the state's cultural resources, but no funds were appropriated.

Appointed to the Council were:

From Lincoln—Janice L. Sorenson, Fred N. Wells, Walter E. Militzer, Don Shriner and Norman Geske.

SCRAWNY ZOILO LEADS MINNESOTA

...Scrappy Twins 2-Up As World Series Shifts To LA

Minneapolis—St. Paul (AP)—The scrappy Minnesota Twins, again led by scrawny little Zoilo Versalles, beat Sandy Koufax Thursday and went two-up on the Los Angeles Dodgers with a 5-1 victory in the second World Series game behind the pitching of Jim Kaat.

Heading to Los Angeles where the Series will be resumed Saturday afternoon after an open date Friday for travel, the American League champions were in an enviable position. They had whipped the Dodgers' fearsome pair of Koufax and Don Drysdale, and were brimming with confidence.

Only four teams have come back to win the Series after losing the first two.

Kaat, only 25, turned in a superb job with a seven-hitter while the Dodgers defense collapsed with three errors. Jim Gilliam, the 36-year-old coach who returned to action at third base in May, opened the gates in the Twins' two-run sixth inning with a two-base error.

For the second straight day Versalles outshone Maury Wills, his shortstop rival, both at bat and on the bases. Zoilo, the 155-pound Cuban, scored two runs and contributed a triple to the Twins' attack. He also danced down the third base line and sped home as he forced Ron Perranoski into a wild pitch in the seventh.

To put the icing on the cake for the sellout crowd of 48,700 that watched in 56-degree temperature and a persistent drizzle, Kaat came through with a single with the bases loaded and drove in two more runs in the eighth

The Dodgers, who had gone into the Series as 7½-5 favorites, now faced an uphill struggle Only the 1921 New York Giants, the 1955 Brooklyn Dodgers, and the 1956 and 1958 New York Yankees had overcome such a back-breaking handicap.

Until Gilliam opened the door with his misplay, Koufax and Kaat were locked in a shutout duel Each had allowed only three hits and Sandy, who set a modern major league strikeout record with 382 in the regular season, had struck out eight in five innings.

After Gilliam's error, Joe Nossek's sacrifice, the double by Oliva and Killebrew's single, the Twins were never headed. They had a chance to open the lead wider but Koufax struck out Bob Allison and made Don Mincher ground out to end the sixth.

With the score 2-1 and men on second and third, Dodger Manager Walter Alston called on Drysdale, his top hitter with a .300 average, as a pinch hitter. Big Don went down swinging, missing three straight pitches by the Minnesota left-hander. Wills flied out, ending the threat

Versalles hit his triple after two were out in the seventh. While Perranoski was pitching to Joe Nossek, Zoilo broke down the baseline.

Ron hurried his pitch and bounced one into the dirt that catcher John Roseboro blocked but couldn't hold. Roseboro tried a desperate backhand toss to the plate but there was no play as Versalles scored. Perranoski was charged with a wild pitch.

The Twins broke it wide open in the eighth. A walk to Harmon Killebrew, a double by Allison and an intentional walk to Frank Quilici following a balk loaded the bases with two out. Kaat, a dangerous hitter all season, singled to center, scoring two more runs that put the game beyond recall

Kaat wavered momentarily in the ninth. After striking out Fairly, he allowed a single by Lefebvre and then hit Parker with a pitch. But he bore down and disposed of Roseboro for the second out.

It was a great climax for Kaat, who was making his first Series appearance against a rival who had won 26 games The final liner was his fifth putout, a Series record for a pitcher in a nine-inning game.

Commissioner Ford Frick ordered in two helicopters to blow the water off the outfield. Weed burners were used to dry out the soggy area in front of the dugouts. There was no batting practice.

It was raining when the game started under lights and it drizzled on and off through the day. The sun finally broke through at the final out.

Both managers said they would stay with their announced pitchers for Saturday's third game.

That means Claude Osteen, 15-15, a left-hander who was successful against the Twins when he pitched for Washington in 1964, will go for the Dodgers. Mele will use Camilo Pascual, 9-3 the Cuban right-hander who missed seven weeks of the season because of an operation on his back.

U.S.-Britain Ryder Cup Duel Even

Southport, England (AP)—The United States and Britain collided head-on in the biennial Ryder Cup golf matches Thursday, smashed par dizzy but wound up all-square at 4-4 after the first of three days of competition.

"I've never seen anything like it," said Byron Nelson, the American nonplaying captain. "It was an unbelieveable day of golf."

His description of the first day's carnage was not exaggerated. Eight foursomes matches, played with alternate shots, came out even, each team winning two and losing two in the morning and then duplicating that after lunch

Dried out after several weeks of rain, the Birkdale course yielded itself to incredible golf during the afternoon.

The charging gallery will be talking for weeks about Casper's wedge shot from 80 yards out on the 320-yard par four fifth hole. It went into the can for an eagle two.

They also saw Palmer and Marr close out their afternoon match with an eagle three on the 517 yard par five 13th. Marr hit a three wood onto the green and Palmer sank a 15 footer.

On the 493-yard par five first hole, Hunt fired a second shot three feet from the pin and Coles knocked it in for a three.

The match of the day belonged to Palmer and Marr in the afternoon. The Americans went out in 30 shots, probably the greatest nine holes ever played in foursomes competition, and Palmer, who won the British Open championship here in 1961, said "it should have been a 29" He said his putt on the ninth hole went into the cup and then popped out.

Having their team rated in the top ten is a delight to fans, but it leaves coaches with a somewhat less exuberant feeling. And one needs only to study what happens to top ten teams to understand coaches' feelings on the matter.

Each week at least two top ten teams have fallen and only three teams—Texas, Nebraska and Arkansas—who were on Associated Press' pre-season top ten haven't been stung.

Last week took the biggest toll with Purdue being tied by SMU, 14-14, LSU losing to Florida, 14-7, Kentucky dropping a 23-18 game to Auburn and Michigan losing to Georgia, 15-7.

Duda Handed Starting Role

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Fred Duda, who slightly more than a year ago read headlines from an Ames, Iowa, hospital bed that said he may never play football again, was tabbed Thursday as Nebraska's starting quarterback for Saturday's Wisconsin game.

Duda suffered a severe leg fracture against Iowa State last season and did not begin working out with the Huskers in full togs again until this fall.

The senior from Chicago made a strong bid for the starting berth held by Bob Churchich since his injury when he led the Huskers to the 44-0 win over Iowa State last Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

"We think Duda deserves the chance to start," NU coach Bob Devaney said in announcing his selection. "He and Churchich have been real close all fall and we are trying to be fair to both boys.

"Duda's starting is in no way a reflection on the performances turned in by Churchich. We are also quite pleased with his work."

Duda is the fourth new starter for the Huskers in Saturday's game. Others gaining starting berths are Jim Osberg at offensive right guard, edging out Wayne Meylan; Bill Haug for the injured Langston Coleman at defensive end; and Pete Tatman for the injured Ron Kirkland at offensive left halfback.

Kirkland may be available for punting duties, however the shoulder injury may hamper him in that chore also since he would have trouble reaching for a high snap.

Devaney indicated his staff may choose not to risk further injury to the Wisconsin native's shoulder even if he is available for punting. In that case, sophomore Al Keuhl would do the kicking.

While the Badgers are averaging only 1.2 yards per carry on 108 rushing plays, Devaney said Thursday he expects them to try to run more than in their first three games.

"We feel they have been working on their running," Devaney observed. "And we expect them to run a little more than they have been.

"We know they'll pass a lot, but they are also likely to try to run to make their passing more effective.

"At least, we have found that with our offense, we have to run in order to make our passing work and we have to pass to make our running go.

Missouri Accepts Fishing Proposal From Nebreska

The State Game Commission learned Thursday that its Missouri counterpart has accepted a Nebraska proposal for a reciprocal agreement on Missouri River fishing.

The Missouri Conservation Commission accepted the Nebraska proposal, which was patterned after a liberal agreement between Iowa and the Cornhusker state.

It provides that anglers, regardless of which state they are fishing in, must abide by the rules and regulations of the state in which they are licensed It also provides that fishermen may transport fish taken from the Missouri River through either state.

Lincoln Prep Coaches Face Various Football Problems

. . . ROCKETS, LINKS HAVE SAME DILEMMA

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Lincoln's prep football coaches have problems of varying natures confronting them as they head into the second half of their seasons Friday and Saturday nights.

Those with the most similar problems are Northeast's Art Bauer and Lincoln High's Loehr, whose teams are playing host to outside foes after last week's intra-city clash.

Neither offensive unit was able to score in Northeast's 6-0 win over the Links as the game's only tally came on a punt return by the Rockets' Jack Ketterer.

It was the third shutout for the Northeast defense, which has been carrying the load for the Rockets

Mistakes have plagued Bauer's offense. "We played just like it was the first game of the year last week," he commented on the inability of his team to score against the Links.

The Rockets hope to get something going in the offensive department Saturday night against Beatrice, which brings a 3-0-1 record to Seacrest Field.

Loehr is generally pleased with his team's defensive play that has limited foes to just three touchdowns in four games, but hopes that his club can shake a three-game offensive slump against invading Grand Island Friday night.

Vince Aldrich, coach of the second-ranked Pius X Thunderbolts, was in an entirely different situation last week in a 71-6 win over Bishop Rummel.

"I've never been in a spot like that before," Vince says, "I was looking for players who would make mistakes after we were ahead 47-0 at the half."

The Thunderbolts travel to meet David City Aquinas, ranked No. 7 in Class B, Saturday night.

Southeast draws a tough assignment as it tries to make amends for last week's 19-6 loss at Fremont. The Knights travel to meet unbeaten Bellevue Friday night.

"You can't believe how poorly we played in the first half last week," Southeast coach Bill Stephenson says

Dick Hawley, the fastest man on the squad, was lost by injury in the opener against North Platte. Last week the Knights lost another quick halfback when Bill Leinberger was injured.

Pass defense, the weak spot at Fremont, will get a thorough testing again this week as the Knights try to stop the Rogers Smith to Tom McGinniss aerial act.

—LA PLAYERS MANAGE HUMOROUS QUIPS—

Dodgers Don't Feel Second Series Loss Is Catastrophic

Minneapolis—St. Paul (AP)—All was not catastrophic in the Los Angeles Dodger dressing room Thursday despite their second straight loss to the Minnesota Twins in the World Series

Relief pitcher Ron Perranoski even managed a quip when a friend in jest asked the question: "What was the turning point in the game?"

"When it stopped raining," said the good looking hurler.

Manager Walter Alston, retaining his good humor following the Dodgers' 5-1 loss echoed the quip and had his own little joke.

"The turning point was when Tracewski lined out to Kaat," said Alston.

"I'll be glad when we change ball parks," said Capt Maury Wills He emphasized he had no complaints about the Twins' Metropolitan Stadium — home in Los Angeles' Dodger Stadium is just better.

"No, the weather, the mound, the park had nothing to do with it," said the Dodgers' star lefthander, Sandy Koufax "I just didn't have the control I needed against this team."

More On Series, Page 18

Alston said he'd be glad to get back to Los Angeles, too, when the Series resumes Saturday.

"I know we'll have better weather, and I hope we can score more runs," the skipper said.

He recalled that in 1955 the then Brooklyn Dogers fell two games behind and came back to win the Series, and in 1956 they were two games in front and lost.

Alston explained why he had Wes Parker sacrifice in the seventh with two runners on base and none out.

"With our kind of power we try at a point like that for a tie and hope to get the winning run later," Alston said.

Wills was on his own after he led off the sixth with a single and was on his way to steal second when Jim Gilliam grounded out, Alston went on.

"Yes, I'm sure I had it made," said Wills, who reached second but was, of course, not credited with a steal. It was his only chance of the gloomy afternoon to give the fans what they were yelling for, a display of his base running talent.

.698 Last Week

Last week's mark was 40 right, 17 wrong with one tie for a .698 percentage, bringing the season record to 110 right, 53 wrong and seven ties for .668.

Minneapolis—St. Paul (AP)—The scrappy Minnesota Twins, again led by scrawny little Zoilo Versalles, beat Sandy Koufax Thursday and went two-up on the Los Angeles Dodgers with a 5-1 victory in the second World Series game behind the pitching of Jim Kaat.

Heading to Los Angeles where the Series will be resumed Saturday afternoon after an open date Friday for travel, the American League champions were in an enviable positton. They had whipped the Dodgers' fearsome pair of Koufax and Don Drysdale, and were brimming with confidence.

Only four teams have come back to win the Series after losing the first two.

Kaat, only 25, turned in a superb job with a seven-hitter while the Dodgers defense collapsed with three errors. Jim Gilliam, the 36-year-old coach who returned to action at third base in May, opened the gates in the Twins' two-run sixth inning with a two-base error.

For the second straight day Versalles outshone Maury Wills, his shortstop rival, both at bat and on the bases. Zoilo, the 155-pound Cuban, scored two runs and contributed a triple to the Twins' attack. He also danced down the third base line and sped home as he forced Ron Perranoski into a wild pitch in the seventh.

To put the icing on the cake for the sellout crowd of 48,700 that watched in 56-degree temperature and a persistent drizzle, Kaat came through with a single with the bases loaded and drove in two more runs in the eighth.

The Dodgers, who had gone into the Series as 7½-5 favorites, now faced an uphill struggle. Only the 1921 New York Giants, the 1955 Brooklyn Dodgers, and the 1956 and 1958 New York Yankees had overcome such a back-breaking handicap.

Tony Oliva, the American League batting champ who had gone hitless in six trips, knocked in the first run off Koufax. He doubled to left in the sixth after Gilliam had let Versalles' shot bounce off his glove and go down the left field line for a costly error.

Until Gilliam opened the door with his misplay, Koufax and Kaat were locked in a shutout duel. Each had allowed only three hits and Sandy, who set a modern major league strikeout record with 382 in the regular season, had struck out eight in five innings.

After Gilliam's error, Joe Nossek's sacrifice, the double by Oliva and Killebrew's single, the Twins were never headed. They had a chance to open the lead wider but Koufax struck out Bob Allison and made Don Mincher ground out to end the sixth.

With the score 2-1 and men on second and third, Dodger Manager Walter Alston called on Drysdale, his top hitter with a .300 average, as a pinch hitter. Big Don went down swinging, missing three straight pitches by the Minnesota left-hander. Wills flied out, ending the threat.

Versalles hit his triple after two were out in the seventh. While Perranoski was pitching to Joe Nossek, Zoilo broke down the baseline.

Ron hurried his pitch and bounced one into the dirt that catcher John Roseboro blocked but couldn't hold. Roseboro tried a desperate backhand toss to the plate but there was no play as Versalles scored. Perranoski was charged with a wild pitch.

The Twins broke it wide open in the eighth. A walk to Harmon Killebrew, a double by Allison and an intentional walk to Frank Quilici following a balk loaded the bases with two out. Kaat, a dangerous hitter all season, singled to center, scoring two more runs that put the game beyond recall.

Kaat wavered momentarily in the ninth. After striking out Fairly, he allowed a single by Lefebvre and then his Parker with a pitch. But he bore down and disposed of Roseboro for the second out.

It was a great climax for Kaat, who was making his first Series appearance against a rival who had won 26 games. The final liner was his fifth putout, a Series record for a pitcher in a nine-inning game.

Commissioner Ford Frick ordered in two helicopters to blow the water off the outfield. Weed burners were used to dry out the soggy area in front of the dugouts. There was no batting practice.

It was raining when the game started under lights and it drizzled on and off through the day. The sun finally broke through at the final out.

Both managers said they would stay with their announced pitchers for Saturday's third game.

That means Claude Osteen, 15-15, a left-hander who was successful against the Twins when he pitched for Washington in 1964, will go for the Dodgers. Mele will use Camilo Pascual, 9-3, the Cuban right-hander who missed seven weeks of the season because of an operation on his back.

U.S.-Britain Ryder Cup Duel Even

Southport, England (AP)—The United States and Britain collided head-on in the biennial Ryder Cup golf matches Thursday, smashed par dizzy but wound up all-square at 4-4 after the first of three days of competition.

"I've never seen anything like it," said Byron Nelson, the American nonplaying captain. "It was an unbelieveable day of golf."

His description of the first day's carnage was not exaggerated. Eight foursomes matches, played with alternate shots, came out even, each team winning two and losing two in the morning and then duplicating that after lunch.

Dried out after several weeks of rain, the Birkdale course yielded itself to incredible golf during the afternoon.

The charging gallery will be talking for weeks about Casper's wedge shot from 80 yards out on the 320-yard par four fifth hole. It went into the can for an eagle two.

They also saw Palmer and Marr close out their afternoon match with an eagle three on the 517 yard par five 13th. Marr hit a three wood onto the green and Palmer sank a 15 footer.

On the 493-yard par five first hole, Hunt fired a second shot three feet from the pin and Coles knocked it in for a three.

The match of the day belonged to Palmer and Marr in the afternoon. The Americans went out in 30 shots, probably the greatest nine holes ever played in foursomes competition, and Palmer, who won the British Open championship here in 1961, said "it should have been a 29." He said his putt on the ninth hole went into the cup and then popped out.

MORNING ROUND

Dave Thomas and George Will defeated Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa., and Dave Marr, New Rochelle, N.Y., 6 and 5.

AFTERNOON ROUND

Palmer and Marr defeated Thomas and Will, 6 and 5.

Lincoln Prep Coaches Face Various Football Problems

. . . ROCKETS, LINKS HAVE SAME DILEMMA

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Lincoln's prep football coaches have problems of varying natures confronting them as they head into the second half of their seasons Friday and Saturday nights.

Those with the most similar problems are Northeast's Art Bauer and Lincoln High's Loehr, whose teams are playing host to outside foes after last week's intra-city clash.

Neither offensive unit was able to score in Northeast's 6-0 win over the Links as the game's only tally came on a punt return by the Rockets' Jack Ketterer.

It was the third shutout for the Northeast defense, which has been carrying the load for the Rockets.

Mistakes have plagued Bauer's offense. "We played just like it was the first game of the year last week," he commented on the inability of his team to score against the Links.

The Rockets hope to get something going in the offensive department Saturday night against Beatrice, which brings a 3-0-1 record to Seacrest Field.

Loehr is generally pleased with his team's defensive play that has limited foes to just three touchdowns in four games, but hopes that his club can shake a three-game offensive slump against invading Grand Island Friday night.

Vince Aldrich, coach of the second-ranked Pius X Thunderbolts, was in an entirely different situation last week in a 71-6 win over Bishop Rummel.

"I've never been in a spot like that before," Vince says, "I was looking for players who would make mistakes after we were ahead 47-0 at the half."

The Thunderbolts travel to meet David City Aquinas, ranked No. 7 in Class B, Saturday night.

Southeast draws a tough assignment as it tries to make amends for last week's 19-6 loss at Fremont. The Knights travel to meet unbeaten Bellevue Friday night.

"You can't believe how poorly we played in the first half last week," Southeast coach Bill Stephenson says.

Dick Hawley, the fastest man on the squad, was lost by injury in the opener against North Platte. Last week the Knights lost another quick halfback when Bill Leinberger was injured.

Pass defense, the weak spot at Fremont, will get a thorough testing again this week as the Knights try to stop the Rogers Smith to Tom McGinniss aerial act.

Bellevue Sophs Win, 14-12, Over Links

Bellevue sophomores came from behind to defeat the Lincoln High squad, 14-12, Thursday evening.

Bellevue	0	0	14	0—14

Lincoln High—Simms (2) pass from Ellis, fumble recovery.

—NU QUARTERBACK COMPLETES COMEBACK—

Duda Handed Starting Role

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Fred Duda, who slightly more than a year ago read headlines from an Ames, Iowa, hospital bed that said he may never play football again, was tabbed Thursday as Nebraska's starting quarterback for Saturday's Wisconsin game.

Duda suffered a severe leg fracture against Iowa State last season and did not begin working out with the Huskers in full togs again until this fall.

The senior from Chicago made a strong bid for the starting berth held by Bob Churchich since his injury when he led the Huskers to the 44-0 win over Iowa State last Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

"We think Duda deserves the chance to start," NU coach Bob Devaney said in announcing his selection. "He and Churchich have been real close all fall and we are trying to be fair to both boys.

"Duda's starting is in no way a reflection on the performances turned in by Churchich. We are also quite pleased with his work."

Duda is the fourth new starter for the Huskers in Saturday's game. Others gaining starting berths are Jim Osberg at offensive right guard, edging out Wayne Meylan; Bill Haug for the injured Langston Coleman at defensive end; and Pete Tatman for the injured Ron Kirkland at offensive left halfback.

Kirkland may be available for punting duties, however the shoulder injury may hamper him in that chore also since he would have trouble reaching for a high snap.

Devaney indicated his staff may choose not to risk further injury to the Wisconsin native's shoulder even if he is available for punting. In that case, sophomore Al Keuhl would do the kicking.

While the Badgers are averaging only 1.2 yards per carry on 108 rushing plays, Devaney said Thursday he expects them to try to run more than in their first three games.

"We feel they have been working on their running," Devaney observed, "And we expect them to run a little more than they have been.

"We know they'll pass a lot, but they are also likely to try to run to make their passing more effective.

"At least, we have found that with our offense, we have to run in order to make our passing work and we have to pass to make our running go.

Missouri Accepts Fishing Proposal From Nebreska

The State Game Commission learned Thursday that its Missouri counterpart has accepted a Nebraska proposal for a reciprocal agreement on Missouri River fishing.

The Missouri Conservation Commission accepted the Nebraska proposal, which was patterned after a liberal agreement between Iowa and the Cornhusker state.

It provides that anglers, regardless of which state they are fishing in, must abide by the rules and regulations of the state in which they are licensed. It also provides that fishermen may transport fish taken from the Missouri River through either state.

—LA PLAYERS MANAGE HUMOROUS QUIPS—

Dodgers Don't Feel Second Series Loss Is Catastrophic

Minneapolis—St. Paul (AP)—All was not catastrophic in the Los Angeles Dodger dressing room Thursday despite their second straight loss to the Minnesota Twins in the World Series.

Relief pitcher Ron Perranoski even managed a quip when a friend in jest asked the question: "What was the turning point in the game?"

"When it stopped raining," said the good looking hurler.

"The turning point was when Tracewski lined out to Kaat," said Alston.

"I'll be glad when we change ball parks," said Capt. Maury Wills. He emphasized he had no complaints about the Twins' Metropolitan Stadium — home in Los Angeles' Dodger Stadium is just better.

"No, the weather, the mound, the park had nothing to do with it," said the Dodgers' star lefthander, Sandy Koufax. "I just didn't have the control I needed against this team."

More On Series, Page 18

Alston said he'd be glad to get back to Los Angeles, too, when the Series resumes Saturday.

"I know we'll have better weather, and I hope we can score more runs," the skipper said.

He recalled that in 1955 the then Brooklyn Dogers fell two games behind and came back to win the Series, and in 1956 they were two games in front and lost.

Alston explained why he had Wes Parker sacrifice in the seventh with two runners on base and none out.

"With our kind of power we try at a point like that for a tie and hope to get the winning run later," Alston said.

Wills was on his own after he led off the sixth with a single and was on his way to steal second when Jim Gilliam grounded out, Alston went on.

"Yes, I'm sure I had it made," said Wills, who reached second but was, of course, not credited with a steal. It was his only chance of the gloomy afternoon to give the fans what they were yelling for, a display of his base running talent.

Missouri Football Coach Unsatisfied With Practice

"I thought we had a fine week's practice for the Minnesota game last week," Devine said, "But that isn't true of our preparation this week. After three weeks of all-out effort to get ready for Kentucky, Oklahoma State and Minnesota games, I guess a letdown was inevitable, but it's not because we're taking Kansas State lightly. I guess we just came to a place where we had to slow down."

Iowa State

Ames, Iowa (AP) — Two new starters will be in the Iowa State University lineup for its Big Eight Conference football game at Kansas Saturday.

They are Tony Baker, regular fullback at the start of the season who regained the No. 1 spot from sophomore Willie Robinson, and linebacker Ron Halda, who will fill in for injured Dave Mayberry.

Oklahoma State

Stillwater, Okla. (AP) — The Oklahoma State Cowboys conducted their final football workout Thursday and Coach Phil Cutchin said he had high regard for unbeaten Big Eight rival Colorado.

Kansas State

Wisconsin Coach Chooses Starters

. . . FOR NEBRASKA GAME

Bandor suffered a sprained finger in practice Wednesday but apparently will be ready for Saturday's meeting with the second-ranked Cornhuskers.

Offensive end John Tietz and defensive end Bud Dyer will not make the trip because of injuries.

Higgins,Carlsmith Advance In Meet

Pittsburgh (AP) — Defending champion William D. Higgins of San Francisco and two-time former champion Merril Carlsmith of Hilo, Hawaii, advanced to the quarter-finals of the weather-plagued USGA National Senior Amateur Golf Championship at Fox Chapel Golf Club Thursday

Higgins outlasted Leo G Saetterle of Pottstown, Pa., 1-up. Carl Smith, who won the event in 1962 and 1963 eliminated Larry Moller, 57, former Notre Dame Golf captain, 3 and 2.

Oilers Place Dalton Hoffman On Waivers

Big Catch Gives Big Victory To Twins

. . . MELE SINGLES OUT ALLISON'S PLAY

Minneapolis-St. Paul (AP) — Bob Allison's diving, roll-over catch of a slicing fly ball in the fifth inning choked off a potential Los Angeles explosion and sent the Minnesota Twins on their way to victory Thursday, as Twins Manager Sam Mele viewed it.

"I don't know when I've seen a catch like that," Mele said. "It was a tremendous catch. It could have meant something big for the Dodgers if the ball had dropped in there.

"It had a heck of a lot to do with our winning. They could have had a big rally going. I didn't think he had a chance for it, to tell you the truth. It was curving away from him."

Allison said it had to be the greatest catch he ever made, "because it came in a World Series."

"I thought I had a 50-50 chance when I went after the ball," Allison added.

Harmon Killebrew, who had as good a view of the drive off Jim Lefebvre's bat as anybody from his third base position, said, "I didn't think Bob had a chance in the world to catch it. That may have saved the game."

The catch came after Ron Fairly had led off the Dodger fifth with a single. Wes Parker beat out an infield hit after the catch, but Jim Kaat got out of the inning by getting the next two batters to foul out.

Then the Twins scored two runs in the sixth inning to take a lead they never relinquished.

Allison had an ice pack on his right thigh muscle, and trainer George Lentz said the outfielder had a muscle spasm. Allison said he didn't know when the muscle started hurting.

"I'd love to sweep," he said. "But they're a tough outfit, and you've got to play heads up all the time. I've been telling you guys we're pretty tough, too."

"No, I didn't think Allison had a chance to catch Fairly's hit," Mele said.

Winning pitcher Jim Kaat, who said he didn't look at the Twins' scouting reports on the Dodgers, contended he felt no pressure on him in opposing Sandy Koufax.

"Nobody expected me to beat Koufax, anyway," Kaat said. "I told myself he had to beat me between the foul lines. But when I saw him throw after an inning, I thought I'd better not give up a run."

Kaat said Mele asked him if he felt all right when the two conferred at the mound in the seventh.

"I might have hit for Kaat in the eighth inning," Mele said, "but he was throwing good and said he felt good, so I let him bat and he drives in two runs with a single."

Mele also said he had no intention of ordering a walk to Roseboro in the seventh to get to the pitcher.

Killebrew called Koufax "just as tough as I expected. It's definitely a big lift to beat him." Then the slugger added, "We've hit Claude Osteen in some games; maybe we can again."

"I hit the ball hard," Zoilo said. "It had to be that the ball took a bad hop. I was surprised when I looked up at the scoreboard."

Nebraska's Walt Barnes One Of All-America Candidates

Kansas City (AP) — Tackle Walt Barnes of Nebraska, linebacker Carl McAdams of Oklahoma and back Johnny Roland of Missouri are the leading defensive All America candidates in the first report by The Associated Press regional board.

On the offense, the top three candidates in the midlands are tackle Francis Peay of Missouri and a pair of split ends — little Howard Twilley of Tulsa and towering Freeman White of Nebraska.

The dearth of backfield candidates—Roland is the only one—is best explained by the presence of so much rich line talent. The midlands probably has as many outstanding backs as ever. Two examples are quarterbacks Gary Lane, Missouri and Bill Anderson, Tulsa.

But never has the area produced so many great linemen, the board noted.

The 252-pound Barnes would be an All America player at any line position, offense or defense, in the opinion of board members. He opened the season at middle guard. George Kelly, Nebraska assistant, said Barnes would make a great fullback. Barnes is quick, strong, smart and a natural leader.

The 6-foot-4, 246-pound Peay had no pre-season ballyhoo, but board members and coaches say there is no better offensive tackle in the land. His blocking was tremendous as Missouri gained 324 rushing at Minnesota.

Twilley is only 5-10 and 180 but makes unbelievable catches and has an uncanny ability to get open. He currently leads the nation in pass receiving and may become the first man ever to win back-to-back NCAA receiving titles. White is a 6-5, 220-pounder with speed, great hands and he likes to block.

Missouri Football Coach Unsatisfied With Practice

"I thought we had a fine week's practice for the Minnesota game last week," Devine said, "But that isn't true of our preparation this week. After three weeks of all-out effort to get ready for Kentucky, Oklahoma State and Minnesota games, I guess a letdown was inevitable, but it's not because we're taking Kansas State lightly. I guess we just came to a place where we had to slow down."

Iowa State

Ames, Iowa (AP) — Two new starters will be in the Iowa State University lineup for its Big Eight Conference football game at Kansas Saturday.

Oklahoma State

Stillwater, Okla. (AP) — The Oklahoma State Cowboys conducted their final football workout Thursday and Coach Phil Cutchin said he had high regard for unbeaten Big Eight rival Colorado.

Kansas State

Manhattan, Kan. (AP)—Coach Doug Weaver resorted to some psychological warfare and named Charlie Cottle and Dan Woodward as Kansas State's co-captains for Saturday's game against Missouri at Columbia.

Cottle and Woodward were stars for Hickman High School at Columbia, with Woodward pulling out of his guard spot and leading Cottle on many a sweep.

New TV Football Change For '66-'67

Kansas City (AP)—A new college football television plan for the 1966 and 1967 seasons has been overwhelmingly approved by the NCAA membership by a vote of 210 to 17, NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers said Thursday.

A realignment of national vs. regional dates in the new plan will provide three more games than the present plan and an opportunity for more teams to appear on television.

There are now nine national dates and five regional dates. The new plan calls for eight national and six regional dates.

Big Catch Gives Big Victory To Twins

. . . MELE SINGLES OUT ALLISON'S PLAY

Minneapolis-St. Paul (AP) — Bob Allison's diving, roll-over catch of a slicing fly ball in the fifth inning choked off a potential Los Angeles explosion and sent the Minnesota Twins on their way to victory Thursday, as Twins Manager Sam Mele viewed it.

"I don't know when I've seen a catch like that," Mele said. "It was a tremendous catch. It could have meant something big for the Dodgers if the ball had dropped in there.

"It had a heck of a lot to do with our winning. They could have had a big rally going. I didn't think he had a chance for it, to tell you the truth. It was curving away from him."

The Twins won the second game of the World Series 5-1 and took a 2-0 lead.

Allison said it had to be the greatest catch he ever made, "because it came in a World Series."

"I thought I had a 50-50 chance when I went after the ball," Allison added.

Harmon Killebrew, who had as good a view of the drive off Jim Lefebvre's bat as anybody from his third base position, said, "I didn't think Bob had a chance in the world to catch it. That may have saved the game."

The catch came after Ron Fairly had led off the Dodger fifth with a single. Wes Parker beat out an infield hit after the catch, but Jim Kaat got out of the inning by getting the next two batters to foul out.

Then the Twins scored two runs in the sixth inning to take a lead they never relinquished.

Zoilo Versalles was disappointed that he was not credited with a hit on his grounder to Jim Gilliam which triggered Minnesota's two-run sixth inning.

"I hit the ball hard," Zoilo said. "It had to be that the ball took a bad hop. I was surprised when I looked up at the scoreboard."

Wisconsin Coach Chooses Starters

. . . FOR NEBRASKA GAME

Bandor suffered a sprained finger in practice Wednesday but apparently will be ready for Saturday's meeting with the second-ranked Cornhuskers.

Offensive end John Tietz and defensive end Bud Dyer will not make the trip because of injuries.

Indonesia Uses Foreign Books

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

Indonesian libraries have to "rely heavily" on foreign books and materials because there are few publishers in the country, according to a petite, attractive librarian from the Southeast Asian nation spending three weeks here as an intern in the University of Nebraska libraries.

Mrs. Henry Lim, obtaining "practical experience" from different systems recommended to her as "excellent situations," explained that the acquisition problem of Indonesian librarians includes dealing in foreign currency and taking long periods of time to order.

The former library student, who received her master's degree in library science from Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo on a scholarship from the U.S. Health, Education and Welfare Department's technical assistance program, reported that most Indonesians learn English in high school.

Therefore, she said, the libraries are able to obtain books and materials in the second language to supplement Indonesian publications and the few translations.

But Mrs. Lim expressed concern that one method of book acquisition for Indonesia—with UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization) coupons—was probably eliminated when her country pulled out of the U.N.

Mrs. Lim, who left her economic teaching and businessman husband, Lee Soei Sing Lim, at home, was a librarian for the University of Indonesia in Jakarta and will return there in January to take charge of the social science library.

The young librarian also is considering teaching in the new library school at the Indonesian university. She indicated that she sought a scholarship to get her degree in America to get "first-hand knowledge" of what she will be using and possibly teaching. Then, too, she added, it is better "not to be taught by one's equals."

After her stay at NU reviewing all phases of library operation in its various locations Mrs. Lim will go to observe at the University of Illinois library in Urbana and the Cleveland (Ohio) Public Library.

Union Sky Dive Will Dramatize Brunswick Fight

George Clasey of Lincoln, a member of Local 31 of the International Machinists and Aerospace Workers, will skydive into a lot adjoining the Brunswick Co. to get his union check Wednesday.

Richard Shaw, chief steward for the local, said the stunt was being performed to call attention to the union's two week-old dispute with Brunswick in Lincoln.

The union has also scheduled a meeting with federal mediators according to Dean Kocina of Omaha, business representative of the local.

Management has called the work stoppage a strike, while the union officials have termed it a lockout.

Refugees Land In Florida Replying To Johnson's Open Door Policy

Miami, Fla. (AP)—The first Cuban refugees to arrive under Fidel Castro's open door policy docked unexpectedly Thursday, and there were indications that others might follow in a small-boat exodus across the Florida Straits.

Exiles in the huge, excited colony in Miami said some boats had already left Florida for Cuba in hopes of bringing back their loved ones. But that could not be independently confirmed.

The Cuban government sent dozens—possibly hundreds—of telegrams to refugees in the United States with preliminary instructions on going to Cuba by boat.

Dunkirk

Authorities were upset at the possibility of a "Dunkirk of the Florida Straits," which would be contrary to the "orderly" process prescribed by President Johnson when he accepted Castro's offer to let anyone leave for the United States.

A Border Patrol officer turned up in Marathon in the Florida Keys, where such officers are not ordinarily stationed. He would not say why he was there, but added, "We're sticking close this weekend."

There was much activity on the Miami River where more than 200 exile boats are regularly docked. Cubans repaired and painted their boats in hopes of making a trip to their homeland.

But Santiago Alvarez Jr., who has made several anti-Castro raids on Cuba, said that he believed U.S. vigilance is preventing departures now.

"The only ones who might have made it are some who left immediately after Castro's announcement," he said. "Thirty or forty boats that left then on fishing expeditions have not returned."

The first group of 15, which put into Marathon in the middle of the Keys, were ferried by a refugee who fled Cuba three years ago and returned Tuesday to make the pickup.

Violation

Technically, such trips are a violation of federal law. But the law has been overlooked because of humanitarian reasons.

"They are letting out anybody who wants out," one refugee said.

At one point, Castro said he was willing to pay for two planes a day between Havana and Miami to take the discontented away.

Presently, the United States is negotiating with the Cuban government, via the Swiss embassy, to set up a program.

Some 300,000 Cubans have fled their homeland since Castro took over. Most of them came to the United States.

Cuba Willing To Go Ahead With Parley

Havana (AP) — The Cuban government has answered a U.S. note and expressed a willingness to go ahead with negotiations for refugee operations, the Swiss embassy said Thursday.

If effect, this means Cuba and the United States have agreed to negotiate through the Swiss embassy, said Swiss Charge d'Affaires Arthur Monnier. The Cuban reply to a U.S. note of Monday was handed the Swiss Wednesday.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro offered Oct. 1 to let all Cubans who wish to leave to go to the United States and challenged the United States to open negotiations on the question.

A Lawrence, Kan., firm was the apparent low bidder Thursday for a contract to provide a studio organ for the University of Nebraska's new music building now under construction.

The University Board of Regents will consider the offers Saturday.

NPPS, Rurals At Equity

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Rural electric districts have reached the equity level in their present contracts with the Nebraska Public Power System, NPPS Executive Manager Howard Ericksen of Columbus reported Thursday.

Ericksen informed rural districts by letter.

Once rural districts reach the equity level by purchasing their full contractual commitments, they automatically become free to purchase additional future power supply from sources other than NPPS.

Maximum rural demand in August reached 261,375 kilowatts, Ericksen said, barely surpassing the equity level.

Total Maximum

Total maximum demand for NPPS requirements customers reached 327,889 kilowatts, according to Ericksen, a figure more comfortably beyond the 315,000-KW level which marked the second condition in achieving equity month.

Rural districts now become "equity customers" of NPPS, Ericksen said, and each rural district will now be faced with penalty payments should it require power from NPPS totaling more than 5% beyond its present contractual commitment.

Dil Blatchford of Columbus, general manager of the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative (G & T), said rural districts have "taken adequate steps" to purchase additional power supplies, but they have been "hampered by the actions of NPPS."

The G & T requested NPPS to increase its equity contract provisions by 13,000 kilowatts last June, Blatchford said, but received no reply.

It has also applied for membership with the Basin Electric Cooperative of North Dakota and contracted with the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation for direct purchase of additional USBR power, Blatchford noted.

However, NPPS has traditionally declined to wheel outside power purchases to rural customers, thus making delivery over the NPPS transmission grid impossible.

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Capitol Building Commission "hopes" to get the proposed $3 million state office building under construction during the 1967 centennial year.

Gov. Frank Morrison, commission chairman, said Thursday an architectural study of state office space requirements for the next 10 years is to be brought up to date by the Lincoln architectural firm of Clark and Enersen.

Administrative Services Director Willard Townsend is to consult with Clark and Enersen on the report to be made to the commission "within the next 30 days."

No Decisions

Morrison said commission would make no decisions on size or location for the building until the report is available.

Also to be decided later is whether a national contest will be sponsored by the commission in selecting an architect for the new state office building.

"Our goal," said Morrison, "is to have the building (authorized by the 1965 Legislature) under construction during 1967 so it can be a 'Centennial' building."

Morrison said the building would probably require two years to construct.

Also discussed by the commission was the State Highway Department's proposed new building at 14th and Burnham.

Morrison said it is hoped a construction contract can be let "by February at the latest," but indicated construction could not be completed until early 1967.

The new structure, tied into the Safety Patrol and Highway Department complex, would permit all offices of the department to be consolidated there.

The commission also authorized State Engineer John Hossack to confer with Carl Donaldson, University of Nebraska business manager, regarding plans for the new State Laboratory Building on the University's East Campus.

New Hastings Hospital Head 'Next Month'

State Institutions Director George Morris said Thursday a new superintendent at the Hastings State Hospital would probably be selected by the first of next month.

However, Morris ventured the opinion it would take at least a year to get the hospital to the level desired. The hospital lost its accreditation in 1964 and has since been trying to get it back, primarily through an increase in trained personnel.

The last superintendent at Hastings, Dr. Finn Lunde, resigned in July. He had served in the post since 1962.

Morris told a meeting of the law enforcement organization COPS that the staff at the hospital is still at the point that the alcoholic program of the hospital cannot be properly handled. He said the hospital is now refusing to admit alcoholic repeaters.

Morrison Names Kelly To Power Directors Board

Gov. Frank Morrison Thursday announced the appointment of Grand Island attorney Lloyd W. Kelly to the board of directors of the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District.

NPPS, Rurals At Equity

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Rural electric districts have reached the equity level in their present contracts with the Nebraska Public Power System, NPPS Executive Manager Howard Ericksen of Columbus reported Thursday.

Ericksen informed rural districts by letter.

Once rural districts reach the equity level by purchasing their full contractual commitments, they automatically become free to purchase additional future power supply from sources other than NPPS.

The equity level was 261,000 kilowatts.

Maximum rural demand in August reached 261,375 kilowatts, Ericksen said, barely surpassing the equity level.

Total Maximum

Total maximum demand for NPPS requirements customers reached 327,889 kilowatts, according to Ericksen, a figure more comfortably beyond the 315,000-KW level which marked the second condition in achieving equity month.

Rural districts now become "equity customers" of NPPS, Ericksen said, and each rural district will now be faced with penalty payments should it require power from NPPS totaling more than 5% beyond its present contractual commitment.

Dil Blatchford of Columbus, general manager of the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative (G & T), said rural districts have "taken adequate steps" to purchase additional power supplies, but they have been "hampered by the actions of NPPS."

The G & T requested NPPS to increase its equity contract provisions by 13,000 kilowatts last June, Blatchford said, but received no reply.

It has also applied for membership with the Basin Electric Cooperative of North Dakota and contracted with the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation for direct purchase of additional USBR power, Blatchford noted.

However, NPPS has traditionally declined to wheel outside power purchases to rural customers, thus making delivery over the NPPS transmission grid impossible.

The new grid system, scheduled to become operative next July, specifically permits rural districts to wheel outside power purchases over the grid.

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Frank Morrison, commission chairman, said Thursday an architectural study of state office space requirements for the next 10 years is to be brought up to date by the Lincoln architectural firm of Clark and Enersen.

Administrative Services Director Willard Townsend is to consult with Clark and Enersen on the report to be made to the commission "within the next 30 days."

No Decisions

Morrison said commission would make no decisions on size or location for the building until the report is available.

Also to be decided later is whether a national contest will be sponsored by the commission in selecting an architect for the new state office building.

"Our goal," said Morrison, "is to have the building (authorized by the 1965 Legislature) under construction during 1967 so it can be a 'Centennial' building."

Morrison said the building would probably require two years to construct.

Also discussed by the commission was the State Highway Department's proposed new building at 14th and Burnham.

Morrison said it is hoped a construction contract can be let "by February at the latest," but indicated construction could not be completed until early 1967.

The new structure, tied into the Safety Patrol and Highway Department complex, would permit all offices of the department to be consolidated there.

The commission also authorized State Engineer John Hossack to confer with Carl Donaldson, University of Nebraska business manager, regarding plans for the new State Laboratory Building on the University's East Campus.

New Hastings Hospital Head 'Next Month'

State Institutions Director George Morris said Thursday a new superintendent at the Hastings State Hospital would probably be selected by the first of next month.

However, Morris ventured the opinion it would take at least a year to get the hospital to the level desired. The hospital lost its accreditation in 1964 and has since been trying to get it back, primarily through an increase in trained personnel.

The last superintendent at Hastings, Dr. Finn Lunde, resigned in July. He had served in the post since 1962.

Morris told a meeting of the law enforcement organization COPS that the staff at the hospital is still at the point that the alcoholic program of the hospital cannot be properly handled. He said the hospital is now refusing to admit alcoholic repeaters.

Morrison Names Kelly To Power Directors Board

Gov. Frank Morrison Thursday announced the appointment of Grand Island attorney Lloyd W. Kelly to the board of directors of the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District.

Rails Rise In Mixed Stock Mart

New York (AP)—The stock market went through a mixed session Thursday but it was given significance by the rise of the Dow Jones rail average to a historic high. Trading was fairly active.

Volume was 6.68 million shares compared with 6.05 million Wednesday.

The market was rising irregularly and mildly most of the day. The Dow Jones industrial average showed slight gains until mid-afternoon when it softened under precautionary selling and ended with a loss of 2.42 at 934.42.

Wall Street seemed to be accusotmed to the prospect of President Johnson undergoing surgery. Some predicted a vigorous rally to new peaks in the event of a rapid recovery by the President.

The advance of the rails to a new peak was due chiefly to the strength of a few issues touched by special circumstances. The Dow Jones rails advanced 2.85 to 226.56, topping the previous closing record of 224.91 set last Oct. 26.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway was reported to have made a new move in the long battle with Union Pacific for control of Rock Island Railroad. It was for the form of an application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to make its existing exchange offer available to Rock Island shareholders through the issuance of North Western certificates of deposit for Union Pacific certificates of deposit.

North Western common rose 4, its preferred 3¾, Rock Island common 5⅝ and Rock Island certificate 3½. Union Pacific closed unchanged.

Meanwhile, the North Western and the Milwaukee Road announced agreement to share facilities on the new Milwaukee Road passenger terminal in Milwaukee. Milwaukee Road common rose 2⅜ and its preferred 1½.

Of 1,389 issues traded, 646 rose and 603 fell. New highs for the year totaled 86 and new lows 20.

Standard and Poor's 500-stock index fell .07 to 90.47.

Ampex was the most-active stock for the third straight session, losing ¼ at 42⅝ on 280,900 shares. Ten of the 15 most active stocks rose, 4 fell and Radio Corp. was unchanged.

Prices were irregularly lower on the American Stock exchange. Volume was 1.97 million shares compared with 1.47 million Thursday.

Rails Rise In Mixed Stock Mart

New York (AP)—The stock market went through a mixed session Thursday but it was given significance by the rise of the Dow Jones rail average to a historic high. Trading was fairly active.

Volume was 6.68 million shares compared with 6.05 million Wednesday.

The market was rising irregularly and mildly most of the day. The Dow Jones industrial average showed slight gains until mid-afternoon when it softened under precautionary selling and ended with a loss of 2.42 at 934.42.

Wall Street seemed to be accusotmed to the prospect of President Johnson undergoing surgery. Some predicted a vigorous rally to new peaks in the event of a rapid recovery by the President.

The advance of the rails to a new peak was due chiefly to the strength of a few issues touched by special circumstances. The Dow Jones rails advanced 2.85 to 226.56, topping the previous closing record of 224.91 set last Oct. 26.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway was reported to have made a new move in the long battle with Union Pacific for control of Rock Island Railroad. It was in the form of an application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to make its existing exchange offer available to Rock Island shareholders through the issuance of North Western certificates of deposit for Union Pacific certificates of deposit.

North Western common rose 4, its preferred 3¾, Rock Island common 5⅝ and Rock Island certificate 3½. Union Pacific closed unchanged.

Meanwhile, the North Western and the Milwaukee Road announced agreement to share facilities on the new Milwaukee Road passenger terminal in Milwaukee. Milwaukee Road common rose 2⅜ and its preferred 1½.

Of 1,389 issues traded, 646 rose and 603 fell. New highs for the year totaled 86 and new lows 20.

The Associated Press Average of 60 stocks dipped .2 to 344.8 with industrials off .9, rails up .3 and utilities up .1.

Standard and Poor's 500-stock index fell .07 to 90.47.

Ampex was the most-active stock for the third straight session, losing ¼ at 21⅝ on 280,900 shares. Ten of the 15 most active stocks rose, 4 fell and Radio Corp. was unchanged.

Prices were irregularly lower on the American Stock exchange. Volume was 1.97 million shares compared with 1.47 million Thursday.

Dignity, Docility Declared Chief Dangers To Press

Milwaukee, Wis. (UPI) — The chief dangers facing the American press are not vulgarity and arrogance, but dignity and docility, a Southern newspaper editor said Thursday night.

". . . The American press, like some other American institutions, has grown fat and proud at the same time," Jonathan Daniels told a dinner session of the National Conference of Editorial Writers. ". . . It has become the citadel of the organization man," he said.

Daniels, editor of the Raleigh (N.C.) News and Observer, and press secretary to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, said newspapering is not "a trade designed for dignity."

"It is a nosey business. Anybody who would never wish to hurt anybody's feeling, who never wishes to make anybody mad, should stay out of the newspaper business," Daniels said.

"The editor who deserves the respect of his community can be no respecter of persons in his community. He must be nosey always and often a public scold," Daniels said.

"Our business is to get out of the stuffed shirt and sometimes into the hairy one," Daniels said. "Our business is to itch and scratch," he said

"Let's lift our hearts, and raise hell," Daniels said.

Slow Responders

A critic of newspapers said newspaper editorial pages are better than they were 20 or 30 years ago but editorial writers are still slow to respond to change.

As a result, said Ben Bagdikian, too much of the power of public explanation lies largely with the news magazines and television documentaries. Bagdikian is a contributing editor to the Saturday Evening Post, and author of numerous articles analyzing and criticizing the press.

In a look at 88 editorial pages, he said, he noted a lack of humor, and too many "dear-me-it-sure-is-a-problem" type of editorials.

There were many good editorials, too, he said.

Heavy Losses During Battle In Kashmir

New Delhi, India (AP)—Fresh fighting flared between Indian and Pakistani troops in Kashmir Thursday. Each side reported it inflicted heavy losses on the other.

A communique issued in New Delhi said action in the Chhamb sector, in the southern section of the disputed border state, was the heaviest along the truce line since a cease-fire was proclaimed Sept. 23 to halt three weeks of war.

The Pakistani army charged in Rawalpindi that the Indians attacked in brigade strength — meaning 2,000 or more men—with intermittent artillery support in the Mendhar sector.

"Our troops have inflicted heavy casualties on the enemy and repulsed the attack," a Pakistani communique said. "Many Indian soldiers have been taken prisoner."

More Bases May Close

Washington (AP) — Closing of more military bases, an action which has brought vigorous protest from affected Congress members in the past, is being considered by the administration.

This was disclosed Thursday by an official who said a new review of bases is being made and he would not be surprised if a "substantial number" of installations might be found excess to requirements.

The House, in acting on a $1.9 billion military construction appropriation bill, voted to make all future closings of bases subject to Congressional veto.

McNamara's economy action last year lopped two big government shipyards and six Air Force bases from the list of active installations.

University Opens Bids For Station

Broer also submitted a $30,600 bid on the general construction contract alone. General Construction Co., Lincoln, bid $26,895 on the general construction contract alone.

The bids will be reviewed at a Board of Regents meeting Saturday.

Dignity, Docility Declared Chief Dangers To Press

Milwaukee, Wis. (UPI) — The chief dangers facing the American press are not vulgarity and arrogance, but dignity and docility, a Southern newspaper editor said Thursday night.

". . . The American press, like some other American institutions, has grown fat and proud at the same time," Jonathan Daniels told a dinner session of the National Conference of Editorial Writers. ". . . It has become the citadel of the organization man," he said.

Daniels, editor of the Raleigh (N.C.) News and Observer, and press secretary to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, said newspapering is not "a trade designed for dignity."

"It is a nosey business. Anybody who would never wish to hurt anybody's feeling, who never wishes to make anybody mad, should stay out of the newspaper business," Daniels said.

"The editor who deserves the respect of his community can be no respecter of persons in his community. He must be nosey always and often a public scold," Daniels said.

"Our business is to get out of the stuffed shirt and sometimes into the hairy one," Daniels said. "Our business is to itch and scratch," he said

"Let's lift our hearts, and raise hell," Daniels said.

Slow Responders

A critic of newspapers said newspaper editorial pages are better than they were 20 or 30 years ago but editorial writers are still slow to respond to change.

As a result, said Ben Bagdikian, too much of the power of public explanation lies largely with the news magazines and television documentaries. Bagdikian is a contributing editor to the Saturday Evening Post, and author of numerous articles analyzing and criticizing the press.

In a look at 88 editorial pages, he said, he noted a lack of humor, and too many "dear-me-it-sure-is-a-problem" type of editorials.

There were many good editorials, too, he said.

More Bases May Close

Washington (AP) — Closing of more military bases, an action which has brought vigorous protest from affected Congress members in the past, is being considered by the administration.

This was disclosed Thursday by an official who said a new review of bases is being made and he would not be surprised if a "substantial number" of installations might be found excess to requirements.

The House, in acting on a $1.9 billion military construction appropriation bill, voted to make all future closings of bases subject to Congressional veto.

McNamara's economy action last year lopped two big government shipyards and six Air Force bases from the list of active installations.

University Opens Bids For Station

Among three firms submitting bids to cover general, mechanical and electrical contracts, United General of Lincoln was the apparent low at $31,600. Judds Bros., Lincoln, bid $32,973, and Broer Construction, Lincoln, bid $35,800.

Broer also submitted a $30,600 bid on the general construction contract alone. General Construction Co., Lincoln, bid $26,895 on the general construction contract alone.

The bids will be reviewed at a Board of Regents meeting Saturday.

Packing Company Buys St. Louis Fertilizer Firm

Cedar Rapids, Iowa (UPI)—The purchase of the Schultz Co. of St. Louis by Tama Packing Co. was announced Thursday by Eugene Brown, president of the Tama firm.

Brown said the Schultz Co., manufacturer of fertilizer and detergent, would have its plant here in operation within a week. About 35 persons will be employed at the plant initially.

Tama Packing Co. was formed earlier this year. The beef slaughtering firm still is in the formative stage, but is expected to be in operation by next summer.

X15 May Become Space Lab Taxicab

Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. (UPI) — The Federal Space Agency announced Thursday it has proposed a new delta-winged X15 as a prototype of a plane to travel between the earth and the manned orbital laboratory (MOL) of the 1970s.

The swept winged craft would go 6,000 miles per hour in contrast to the 4,000 m.p.h. of which the existing three X15s are capable. Ten feet would be added to the X15's regular 50-foot length.

"What we propose to do is test the delta-winged shape since this is the kind of rocket ship that would have to travel to and from the MOL," X15 project manager James E. Love said in an interview at this desert base.

Space Taxi

Love said, however, that the aerospace plane that travels to and from the satellite space station may look more like the M2, also known as the lifting body, which looks like a cone chopped in half and tailfins inserted. This experimental vehicle is also undergoing tests at Edwards.

Classified papers detailing this proposal were presented Thursday by other top National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) officials to more than 500 scientists and technicians at the opening of a two-day conference on the X15.

Love disclosed Thuesday that a comet may be photographed from space for the first time on Oct. 21, if it can be determined whether the four cameras aboard the X15 can focus on a moving object.

To date, the camera setup designed by University of Wisconsin scientists have photographed only stars — fixed objects — in the X15 program of scientific studies.

In reference to the need for a landable, maneuverable craft to travel to and from MOL, Love said, "We can't be throwing $30 million boosters out into the ocean for every trip into space."

15,000 M.P.H.

The ultimate model traveling to MOL would have to go 15,000 m.p.h. and this would be accomplished after further development of ram jets, which can operate in thinner air than conventional jets, and other structural developments.

Love said this "giant step" in design has been proposed separately by the X15 project officials to the Air Force and to NASA, and next must be submitted to Gen. Bernard Schriever, Air Force systems commander and MOL project manager.

It has earned astronaut wings for three of its military test pilots who took the craft above 50 miles in its more than 150 test flights since 1959.

New Kennedy Film Gets OK From House

Washington (UPI) — Congress Thursday approved a bill that will let the American people see a government-made documentary film about the late President John F. Kennedy.

The film, John F. Kennedy —Years of Lightning, Day of Drums" was produced by the U.S. Information Agency for distribution abroad. Under law, USIA films cannot be shown within the United States.

The House Thursday approved a Senate-passed resolution which would permit domestic showing of this one film. The bill goes to the White House for President Johnson's signature.

Under the resolution, the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts will arrange distribution of the film. Showings would take place in commercial movie theaters, schools, local nonpartisan civic functions, and possibly on television.

The prohibition against internal distribution of USIA films stems from a fear that the agency, an overseas propaganda voice of the government, could be turned to partisan advantage by an unscrupulous administration.

WAGE BILL ABANDONED BY SOLONS

The decision was reached by Democrats on the Education and Labor Committee after Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., failed to get agreement on a scaled-down bill.

Powell's Committee had approved a bill raising the present $1.25-an-hour minimum to $1.75 and extending coverage to 7.9 million additional workers. It was due to be called up in the House Monday.

Way Is Opened To Modernize Religious Garb

Vatican City (AP)—The Vatican Ecumenical Council opened the way Thursday for modern fashions in Roman Catholic religious garb.

The council, in approving sections of a document outlining ways to modernize the orders, recommended that heads of those orders teach the benefits of chastity and be certain that no one is accepted as a nun, priest or brother unless psychologically prepared to accept chastity.

Day Of Prayer Named

Washington (AP) — President Johnson proclaimed Oct. 20 as a National Day of Prayer and asked all citizens to pause on that day "to acknowledge our dependence on God."

HEMORRHOIDS?

In clinical tests of new M.P.O.—an advanced treatment for hemorrhoids (piles)—doctors reported "results were good to excellent" for 5 out of every 6 patients! M.P.O. works five ways for faster, longer-lasting relief:

1. Helps ease pain faster. You get more medically accepted pain-relieving ingredients, including Benzocaine, than in the preparation you may now be using.

2. Helps shrink swollen tissues. M.P.O. quickly releases the proven vaso-constrictor, Ephedrine Sulfate, to reduce swelling.

4. Gives longer relief. A more temperature-stable base holds medication in place, prolongs relief-bringing action.

5. Fights danger of infection. Proven germ-killer Hexachlorophene combats bacteria.

Improvements On State School Lands Questioned

The State Justice Department has been asked to determine whether the state or the operator owns improvements made on state-owned school lands.

The 1965 Legislature ordered the board to sell the 1.6 million acres of land as present leases expire. In a number of instances, improvements on the property are considered worth more than the real estate itself.

Baby Battles Bull

Angers (AP) — An apparently frustrated bull played a toro-and-matador game last midweek with 16-months-old Michel Coulard. The bull burst out of his pasture and horned Michel in his baby carriage into the air while the child's mother looked on helplessly. After bystanders chased the angry bull Michel was found unhurt.

X15 May Become Space Lab Taxicab

Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. (UPI) — The Federal Space Agency announced Thursday it has proposed a new delta-winged X15 as a prototype of a plane to travel between the earth and the manned orbital laboratory (MOL) of the 1970s.

The swept winged craft would go 6,000 miles per hour in contrast to the 4,000 m.p.h. of which the existing three X15s are capable. Ten feet would be added to the X15's regular 50-foot length.

"What we propose to do is test the delta-winged shape since this is the kind of rocket ship that would have to travel to and from the MOL," X15 project manager James E. Love said in an interview at this desert base.

Space Taxi

Love said, however, that the aerospace plane that travels to and from the satellite space station may look more like the M2, also known as the lifting body, which looks like a cone chopped in half and tailfins inserted. This experimental vehicle is also undergoing tests at Edwards.

Classified papers detailing this proposal were presented Thursday by other top National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) officials to more than 500 scientists and technicians at the opening of a two-day conference on the X15.

Love disclosed Thuesday that a comet may be photographed from space for the first time on Oct. 21, if it can be determined whether the four cameras aboard the X15 can focus on a moving object.

To date, the camera setup designed by University of Wisconsin scientists have photographed only stars — fixed objects — in the X15 program of scientific studies.

In reference to the need for a landable, maneuverable craft to travel to and from MOL, Love said, "We can't be throwing $30 million boosters out into the ocean for every trip into space."

15,000 M.P.H.

The ultimate model traveling to MOL would have to go 15,000 m.p.h. and this would be accomplished after further development of ram jets, which can operate in thinner air than conventional jets, and other structural developments.

Love said this "giant step" in design has been proposed separately by the X15 project officials to the Air Force and to NASA, and next must be submitted to Gen. Bernard Schriever, Air Force systems commander and MOL project manager.

The X15 itself, a sleek, black rocket ship that makes brief flights to the edge of space, is strictly a research plane.

It has earned astronaut wings for three of its military test pilots who took the craft above 50 miles in its more than 150 test flights since 1959.

New Kennedy Film Gets OK From House

Washington (UPI) — Congress Thursday approved a bill that will let the American people see a government-made documentary film about the late President John F. Kennedy.

The film, John F. Kennedy —Years of Lightning, Day of Drums" was produced by the U.S. Information Agency for distribution abroad. Under law, USIA films cannot be shown within the United States.

The House Thursday approved a Senate-passed resolution which would permit domestic showing of this one film. The bill goes to the White House for President Johnson's signature.

Under the resolution, the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts will arrange distribution of the film. Showings would take place in commercial movie theaters, schools, local nonpartisan civic functions, and possibly on television.

The prohibition against internal distribution of USIA films stems from a fear that the agency, an overseas propaganda voice of the government, could be turned to partisan advantage by an unscrupulous administration.

WAGE BILL ABANDONED BY SOLONS

Washington (AP) — Efforts were abandoned Thursday to get House action this year on a bill increasing the minimum wage and extending its coverage.

The decision was reached by Democrats on the Education and Labor Committee after Chairman Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., failed to get agreement on a scaled-down bill.

Powell's Committee had approved a bill raising the present $1.25-an-hour minimum to $1.75 and extending coverage to 7.9 million additional workers. It was due to be called up in the House Monday.

Way Is Opened To Modernize Religious Garb

Vatican City (AP)—The Vatican Ecumenical Council opened the way Thursday for modern fashions in Roman Catholic religious garb.

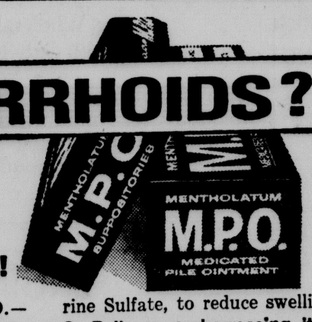
The council, in approving sections of a document outlining ways to modernize the orders, recommended that heads of those orders teach the benefits of chastity and be certain that no one is accepted as a nun, priest or brother unless psychologically prepared to accept chastity.

Day Of Prayer Named

Washington (AP) — President Johnson proclaimed Oct. 20 as a National Day of Prayer and asked all citizens to pause on that day "to acknowledge our dependence on God."

HEMORRHOIDS?



New formula works 5 ways for faster, longer-lasting relief!

In clinical tests of new M.P.O.—an advanced treatment for hemorrhoids (piles)—doctors reported "results were good to excellent" for 5 out of every 6 patients! M.P.O. works five ways for faster, longer-lasting relief:

1. Helps ease pain faster. You get more medically accepted pain-relieving ingredients, including Benzocaine, than in the preparation you may now be using.

2. Helps shrink swollen tissues. M.P.O. quickly releases the proven vaso-constrictor, Ephedrine Sulfate, to reduce swelling.

3. Relieves embarrassing itch. M.P.O. is homogenized for faster absorption, faster relief.

4. Gives longer relief. A more temperature-stable base holds medication in place, prolongs relief-bringing action.

Improvements On State School Lands Questioned

The State Justice Department has been asked to determine whether the state or the operator owns improvements made on state-owned school lands.

The question was put by H. L. Blackledge of Kearney, chairman of the board of educational lands and funds.

The 1965 Legislature ordered the board to sell the 1.6 million acres of land as present leases expire. In a number of instances, improvements on the property are considered worth more than the real estate itself.

Baby Battles Bull

Angers (AP) — An apparently frustrated bull played a toro-and-matador game last midweek with 16-months-old Michel Coulard. The bull burst out of his pasture and horned Michel in his baby carriage into the air while the child's mother looked on helplessly. After bystanders chased the angry bull Michel was found unhurt.
